BRIEF REVIEW OF THE BATTLE NEWS

The news coming from the Flanders battle field during the past twenty-four hours has emphasized the severity of the staggering blow which the Allies struck at the Germans on Monday and Monday night along the front southwest of Ypres.

The exhausted and defeated German columns were brought up short and the shattered columns have not been able to renew the engagement. Taking advantage of the Germans' condition the French delivered fresh thrusts in the Locre sector and improved their positions.

(Locre, in Belgium, was the village which the French gained yesterday when they drove the Germans from a slender footing which they had obtained there. It is on high ground and its possession gives the French troops a big advantage in that region).

On the Picardy battle line (in front of Amiens) artillery duels of extreme violence continue. The bombardments have been especially severe in the sector of Hangard and Villers-Bretenneux where the British have been attacking and extending their lines.

There has been a long lull in big scale infantry operations on this front but now that the Germans have been halted all along the line in the Flanders zone, they may again switch their pressure to Picardy.

General Foch, the generalissimo of the Allies, is showing himself complete master of the situation and a match for von Hindenburg. Without losing a fraction of the men sacrificed by the Germans he has halted the German hordes and driven them back at some points.

Despite the Allied success all along the line it may be said that the real counter offensive of the Entente forces has not yet been launched. Apparently the psychological moment has not yet arrived.

Further German attacks are looked for but the region in which they will fall can only be guessed at. Many European military critics look for the next heavy strokes to come in the district around Arras.

The Inter-Allied War Council (in which the United States is represented) was scheduled to meet today at Versailles and it was expected that the discussion would relate chiefly to counter measures against the Germans, on the twin battle fronts.

This was the 42nd day of the German grand offensive.

FRENCH INFANTRY WORK APPRECIATED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—"The glorious French infantry have once more laid the Allies under their debt by the recapture of the villages of Locre and Hangard just as they came to our aid at Ypres in 1914," said the Daily Mail today commenting upon the Flanders and Picardy battles now in progress upon the western front.

"The men who held at Verdun and who conquered with us at the Somme are now fighting in a terrible battle to hold the channel coast. They may be killed, but they cannot be beaten."

Exhausted by their fruitless assaults on Monday the Germans were unable to renew their attacks on Tuesday and only local fighting was reported in the official despatches from Field Marshal Haig. In front of Amiens there was a brisk engagement in whch the French drove back the Germans from some positions they had been able to occupy in the sector of Noyon.

There were violent bombardments on the Picardy front, especially along the southern flank of the German salient.

Advices from the front today said that the Germans were pressed back a mile in the sector of Scherpenberg, on the Flanders field.

(Scherpenberg lies among the hills just southwest of Ypres, in Belgium.)

The Germans fell back towards Kemmel and now are well behind their original positions.

French troops are engaged in that sector. The fighting raged over the spot where the well-known Irish statesman William Redmond is buried. At one time the ground in which the grave lies was held by the Germans but afterward it was recaptured by the Allied forces.

Fierce bayonet fighting raged around Vooremezeele, six miles northeast of the scene of the French victory at Loche yesterday. British troops held the front at Vooremezeele and the Germans poured in upon them in successive waves. The Britons held their ground and inflicted tremendous losses. The Germans flowed backward pell mell, leaving countless dead and wounded behind.

NEW THRUST COMING SOUTH OF ARRAS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—The German offensive is not yet over and a new thrust south of Arras may be anticipated, but there is reason to believe that the German drive is another Verdun, said the Daily News today in its battle comment.

"For a fortnight the Germans have sustained nothing but failure, including defeats in four pitched battles. Kemmel Hill, apart from no progress elsewhere, has small value, the other hills in that sector remaining in our hands.

"The conviction that the German offensive now under way will prove another Verdun is taking root in Germany. Verdun was disastrous for the crown prince, who disappeared for eighteen months afterward. This second edition will leave the Prussian militarists without any prestige. In addition the fight is proving a reaction on other anxieties. With Mesopotamia., Russia and Holland, Germany has her hands full."

LEROY PALEN.

Headquarters Co., 306th Inf., now in France. Son of Mrs. R. J. Palen of No. 16 Wilbur avenue, this city.

Ex-Supervisor and Mrs. Charles H. Schoonmaker of Ulster Park received word Tuesday of the safe arrival of ther son, First Class Private Alfred V. Schoonmaker, overseas.

Sergeant Louis Wiedemann of the 303rd Military Police, who has been spending a four days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wiedemann, Sr., on 167 North street, has returned to Camp Dix.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riel, 6 Center street, of their son, Elwood's, safe arrival "somewhere in France." Private Riel was one of the Camp Upton boys who entrained from Kingston February 26.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bartsch of Warren street have received word that their son, John Guilford Bartsch, who was a member of the Quartermaster Corp, Company H, 306th Infantry, formerly stationed at Camp Upton, Long Island, has safely arrived "over there."

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Newkirk of No. 169 Downs street have received a cablegram announcing the safe arrival in France of their son, William G. Newkirk, who is a member of the 306th Infantry. Until his induction in the military service, Mr. Newkirk was one of the popular letter carriers of this city.

"SINGING AS WE MARCH ALONG"

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the French Battle Front, May 1.—Hun aviators have dropped bombs on a village in which American soldiers were billeted, but there were no casualties. The roar of the anti-aircraft guns disturbed the slumbers of the doughboys.

The last stages of the forward movement to the front were made in cold, misty mornings of two days, while rain was falling.

The nights have been generally clear.

One of the most popular marching songs while the boys were enroute was "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." But it had to divide honors with a sort of chant which ran:

"Iodine and pills, iodine and pills,
"Good for rheumatism, good for chills."

Countless other verses playing on the medical officers' alleged habit of prescribing iodine or pills for all ailments of the soldiers enlivened the march.

On a certain clear, chilly night, advanced contingents arrived at a village in which the constant rumble of the big guns could be heard. The horizon was constantly lighted by the flashes.

Under present arrangements the International News Service and two other press associations have representatives attached to the headquarters of the larger units, the correspondents of papers being attached to regimental headquarters. All the correspondents are living within the zone of fire and many despatches are written by candle light in dugouts while anti-aircraft guns shell the Boche planes overhead.

POPE PREPARING NEW PEACE FEELER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—Pope Benedict intends to put out another peace feeler to all belligerents, containing a concrete offer of mediation with the possible co-operation of neutrals, according to a wireless press message from The Hague, giving Cologne newspapers as the authority for the statement.

The dispatch added that the information of the Pope's contemplated offer was received sympathetically in Berlin.

The peace feeler, it was stated, would be put out about Whitsuntide.

Whitsuntide begins on Sunday, May 26, and lasts until the following Wednesday.

AUTOMOBILE RACER WINS FIGHT IN AIR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army in France, April 30.—(6 p. m.)—Lieut. "Eddie" Rickenbacker of Columbus, an automobile racer, has engaged in his first air fight on the Toul front and helped to win a victory.

Lieut. Rickenbacker and Captain Norman Hall, of Colfax, Ia., gave combat to a Boche airman, downing him in enemy territory after a spectacular fight.

"Captain Hall did most of the fighting and deserves all the praise," said Lieut. Rickenbacker afterward.

"We got the 'alert' shortly after six o'clock on Monday evening. There had been rain clouds but they were driven away by the sun about an hour before, and the light was good as we went up.

"We picked up the German on our side of the lines and pursued him into the enemy zone. While flying at a height of about 1,800 yards, a duel began. I flew above the German and opened up on him with my machine gun. In the meantime Captain Hall had come up behind and was firing briskly into the Boche machine.

"Our opponent tried every possible trick to dodge us but we kept pecking at him with our machine guns. Finally smoke began to pour from his machine. It may have been due to fire started from our bullets, but I am not certain on that point. At any rate the machine started to descend rapidly.

"We kept after the Hun machine until it got too close to the ground. Captain Hall sending in a few final shots. Hall fired 250 rounds in all while I fired about 200.

"It was a pretty fight but it was over in a few moments.

"Some of the bullets fired by the German pierced the wings of Hall's machine."

Captain Hall served as a private in the British army. He returned to America and wrote a book called "Kitchener's Mob."

He is now writing a serial about his air adventures.

Rickenbacker drove cars in many of the biggest auto races in the United States and is proving himself a very daring flyer.

The machine shot down by Captain Hall and Lieut. Rickenbacker was the third officially reported in the past three weeks. Several others were unofficially said to have been brought down.

LIBERTY LOAN STILL SHORT $500,000,000

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—Less than $500,000,000 remains to be subscribed to bring the third Liberty Loan up to the minimum quota of $3,000,000. Actual subscriptions based on returns received from the twelve Federal Reserve districts since last night were announced by the treasury department today as totalling $2,509,814,600. That the drive is gathering force in the closing days is indicated by large daily totals being recorded, and treasury officials were decidedly hopeful that the $3,000,000,000 minimum would be exceeded by a large sum.

Every state in the Minneapolis district has subscribed its quota, it was officially announced, and the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank is unofficially claiming that every county in the district has "Gone over the top."

Michigan Now Dry.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—Michigan's statewide "bone dry" law went into effect at midnight and liquor dealers in the state closed for all time their places of business. There was no rioting nor even hilarity or "cutting up" such as usually attends the closing of saloons. Detroit is the largest city in the world that has put the ban on the liquor traffic, but the population evinced no regret at the passing of John Barleycorn.

PEACE OFFER A GERMAN BLUFF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—Accepting as true the statement from The Hague that German newspapers are predicting a peace move by Pope Benedict at Whitsuntide the "forecas" was regarded here as very plain German propaganda. Officials would not, of course, discuss the statement but it was very evident that their view is that His Holiness must know that a peace proposal at this juncture would have no possible chance of success.

Peace is the last thing in the minds of all the Allies at this moment for more than ever it is evident that it is now a war to the death of either autocracy or the freedom of the world. President Wilson's words at Baltimore, "Force, force to the utmost" and Lloyd-George's words of only the other day that "This is no time for debate if democracy is to be saved," leave no doubt of where the Allies stand on the question of peace.

It is little to be doubted that German newspapers are being fed on "information" that the Pope is about to come to the rescue of the kaiser through a move for a peace discussion and that such "information" is welcomed in Berlin because of Germany's successes in the west. Nothing could be more to the purpose of Berlin than a peace debate at this time but it is easly to be seen, officials declare that the final decision on the west front is still far from being in Germany's favor. The news of every day makes this plainer and plainer, it is said.

In this situation it is seriously doubted that the Pope has any intention of launching a proposal that would be sure of rejection. If he addressed the nations, he would, of course, be given a respectful hearing in all the Allied capitals. He would then, in all probability receive from one, possibly President Wilson, speaking, the reasons why the free nations of the world cannot treat with an undefeated despot.

At the papal legations nothing was known of the alleged intention of the Pope. Members of congress were unanimous in the opinion that the whole thing was nothing but German propaganda and would be so regarded.

STORMY SCENES IN PRUSSIAN DIET

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Copenhagen, May 1. — Stormy scenes occurred in the Prussian Diet on Tuesday when a member of the Center proposed that the question of electoral reform be postponed until after the war, said advices from the frontier today. Soldiers participated in the debate.

Liberal members strongly rejected the proposal for delay and predicted serious consequences.

Herr Hoffman, an independent Socialist, declared that if the proposal to delay the reforms was accepted he would ask the soldiers not to fight any longer.

This caused great excitement and there were cries of "Traitor."

After excited debate the proposal was rejected.

Count von Hertling, the chancellor, advocated general suffrage.

Herr Porsch, a minority Center member, spoke in favor of a general election.

The Prussian Diet is the law-making body for the kingdom of Prussia, as aside from the Reichstag which represents the German Empire. The question of electoral reform has long been advocated in Prussia and has proved the vital question of domestic politics since the beginning of the war.

HEAVY FIRING ON AMERICAN FRONT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the French Battle Front, April 30.—Heavy artillery duelling, although not comparable to the gigantic gun battle further north in violence, has characterized the past forty-eight hours of fighting on the American sector between Amiens and Paris.

The American and French batteries have proved more active than those of the Germans during this period, the Boches contenting themselves with desultory counter battery work.

Certain of the American batteries concentrated their fire against a certain village which was known as a concentration point of the enemy. It was showered with shells and aerial observation carried on subsequently showed that the result was highly successful.

Many buildings had been battered to pieces and it is believed that the Germans in that region suffered heavy casualties.

Infantry activity has been limited to patrolling during the hours of the night. The parties have been numerous but small.

Both sides have contented themselves with artillery pounding mainly.

"BAD BILL" MONROE IN TROUBLE AGAIN

This Time He is Accused of Burglary —He Had Also Eloped With His Brother's Widow—"German Spy" Arrested With Him.

"Bad Bill" Monroe, the former terror of southern Ulster, was arrested by Under Sheriff Hallock of Orange County on Monday, charged with burglary at Mountainville. With him was arrested a man named Meyer, who the Newburgh authorities believe may be a German spy. Meyer gave his address as 103 Chestnut street, Rochester, but according to the Rochester authorities he is not known at that address. He as well as "Bad Bill" are being held on a technical charge of being engaged in the handling of explosives without a permit.

Under Sheriff Hallock had received word from Mountainville that there had been some robberies there and it had come to light that "Bad Bill" was working on the Houghton farm there. His record was such that he was suspected. It appeared that he had been in the neighborhood for some weeks, under his right name, but had not been connected with the "Bad Bill" of southern Ulster, but when the robberies were committed and it became known that he was in that section there was considerable alarm and the sheriff was sent for.

"Bad Bill" and Meyer were found working together when placed under arrest.

Tuesday afternoon "Bad Bill" was taken to Highland Mills for a hearing on a charge of having burglarized the home of Stephen Smith and also on a similar charge with reference to the Houghton farm.

Following "Bad Bill's" arrest his home was searched and there was found the widow of his brother, a young woman who formerly resided in Middletown. Monroe, it developed, had been living in Newburgh all winter under an assumed name. He went from Newburgh to Middletown and there induced his brother's widow to accompany him to Mountainville.

In "Bad Bill's" home when searched was found some bedding, linen, etc., which have been identified as having been taken from the Smith home.

Mrs. Monroe said they had been brought to the house by Bill, and added she suspected him of having stolen them but did not know he had done so.

170 SOLDIERS FOR RECONSTRUCTION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—General Pershing has sent back a total of 170 soldiers to receive treatment in reconstruction hospitals in this country, according to a statement by Lieut. Col. Billings, M. R. C., in charge of that section of the medical department here today.

These men have been received at different times at the depot of the corps at Ellis Island, from which they are distributed among the several hospitals set aside for reconstruction purposes in this country.

Col. Billings reports excellent progress in the rehabilitation of these men, but states that plans for enlarging the work have been held up because priority in construction work has been denied by the war industries board.

BAKER WILL ASK FOR ARMY OF 3,000,000

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—An American army of 3,000,000 combatant troops will be asked of congress by Secretary of War Baker when he appears on Capitol Hill next Monday to tell what he now finds necessary to make American arms successful in Europe, it was learned today. The whole question of increasing the American fighting strength has been threshed out by the president and Secretary Baker, and the entire cabinet also learned the details at yesterday's meeting. The very minimum of actual fighting men, exclusive of auxiliary troops, demanded by the situation, is 3,000,000, the administration is now convinced, very largely through the observations by the war secretary during his tour of the battle front.

A fighting total of 3,000,000 would involve a total army establishment of approximately 5,000,000 men, it is pointed out. There would have to be 1,500,000 auxiliary and replacement troops and about 500,000 others for emergencies.

Already there are before Congress bills providing for drafts that would bring these totals and it is doubted if any serious opposition to Baker's plans will develop although details may be contested.

KAISER'S MIND SEEMS AFFECTED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—The German imperial tourage has become alarmed at the Kaiser's mental condition, said a Central News despatch from Berne today quoting advices that had been received here.

The newspaper Epoch stated that the Kaiser has become the victim of hallucinations. His advisers are trying without avail to keep him from the battle front.

The Kaiser constantly speaks of his "Divine mission to save the world and humanity."

MAN WHO STARTED THE WAR IS DEAD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—Gabrio Prinzip, the assassin of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, in the summer of 1914, died prison fortress of Theresienstadt, yesterday of tuberculosis in the near Prague, said an Echange Telegraph despatch from The Hague today.

The assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne led to the world war which has engulfed Europe with blood for nearly four years. Austria charged that members of the Servian government were invoived in the plot which led to the assassination on a Sunday afternoon in the little town of Saravejo.

POSTMASTERS WHO SHOULD BE REMOVED

The Freeman has been informed that certain ignorant small-fry postmasters in Ulster county have been insisting that a five-cent stamp be placed on letters to soldiers in the American Expeditionary Forces in France. A three-cent stamp for each ounce of weight is all that is required on a letter to a United States soldier, wherever he may be and any postal employe who makes an assertion to the contrary is grossly ignorant and incompetent and should be removed from office, as he doubtless will be if reported to the postmaster general in Washington. Such a mistake is inexcusable, as the post office department has sent out full and plain instructions covering the matter. The Freeman will take great pleasure in seeing to it that any evidence against a postmaster attempting to practice this petty extortion, or giving out this annoying and inexcusable misinformation, is reported to his superiors.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

LEROY PALEN.

Headquarters Co., 306th Inf., now in France. Son of Mrs. R. J. Palen of No. 16 Wilbur avenue, this city.

Ex-Supervisor and Mrs. Charles H. Schoonmaker of Ulster Park received word Tuesday of the safe arrival of their son, First Class Private Alfred V. Schoonmaker, overseas.

Sergeant Louis Wiedemann of the 303rd Military Police, who has been spending a four days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wiedemann, Sr., on 167 North street, has returned to Camp Dix.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riel, 6 Center street, of their son, Elwood's, safe arrival "somewhere in France." Private Riel was one of the Camp Upton boys who entrained from Kingston February 26.

Mr. and Mrs. H P. Bartsch of Warren street have received word that their son, John Guilford Bartsch, who was a member of the Quartermaster Corp, Company H, 306th Infantry, formerly stationed at Camp Upton, Long Island, has safely arrived "over there."

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Newkirk of No. 169 Downs street have received a cablegram announcing the safe arrival in France of their son, William G. Newkirk, who is a member of the 306th Infantry. Until his induction in the military service, Mr. Newkirk was one of the popular letter carriers of this city.

"SINGING AS WE MARCH ALONG"

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the French Battle Front, May 1.—Hun aviators have dropped bombs on a village in which American soldiers were billeted, but there were no casualties. The roar of the anti-aircraft guns disturbed the slumbers of the doughboys.

The last stages of the forward movement to the front were made in cold, misty mornings of two days, while rain was falling.

The nights have been generally clear.

One of the most popular marching songs while the boys were enroute was "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." But it had to divide honors with a sort of chant which ran:

"Iodine and pills, iodine and pills,
"Good for rheumatism, good for chills."

Countless other verses playing on the medical officers' alleged habit of prescribing iodine or pills for all ailments of the soldiers enlivened the march.

On a certain clear, chilly night, advanced contingents arrived at a village in which the constant rumble of the big guns could be heard. The horizon was constantly lighted by the flashes.

Under present arrangements the International News Service and two other press associations have representatives attached to the headquarters of the larger units, the correspondents of papers being attached to regimental headquarters. All the correspondents are living within the zone of fire and many despatches are written by candle light in dugouts while anti-aircraft guns shell the Boche planes overhead.

ORDER BINDER TWINE SOON

Farmers are earnestly requested to place their orders for probable requirements for binder twine as soon as possible, for an adequate supply to meet the harvest requirements, on account of slow freight movements, caused by unusual demands on the railways.

POPE PREPARING NEW PEACE FEELER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—Pope Benedict intends to put out another peace feeler to all belligerents, containing a concrete offer of mediation with the possible co-operation of neutrals, according to a wireless press message from The Hague, giving Cologne newspapers as the authority for the statement.

The dispatch added that the information of the Pope's contemplated offer was received sympathetically in Berlin.

The peace feeler, it was stated, would be put out about Whitsuntide.

Whitsuntide begins on Sunday, May 26, and lasts until the following Wednesday.

AUTOMOBILE RACER WINS FIGHT IN AIR

By Telegraph to The Freeman

With the American Army in France, April 30.—(6 p. m.)—Lieut. "Eddie" Rickenbacker of Columbus, an automobile racer, has engaged in his first air fight on the Toul front and helped to win a victory.

Lieut. Rickenbacker and Captain Norman Hall, of Colfax, Ia., gave combat to a Boche airman, downing him in enemy territory after a spectacular fight.

"Captain Hall did most of the fighting and deserves all the praise," said Lieut Rickenbacker afterward.

"We got the 'alert' shortly after six o'clock on Monday evening. There had been rain clouds but they were driven away by the sun about an hour before, and the light was good as we went up.

"We picked up the German on our side of the lines and pursued him into the enemy zone. While flying at a height of about 1,800 yards, a duel began. I flew above the German and opened up on him with my machine gun. In the meantime Captain Hall had come up behind and was firing briskly into the Boche machine.

"Our opponent tried every possible trick to dodge us but we kept pecking at him with our machine guns. Finally smoke began to pour from his machine. It may have been due to fire started from our bullets, but I am not certain on that point. At any rate the machine started to descend rapidly.

"We kept after the Hun machine until it got too close to the ground Captain Hall sending in a few final shots. Hall fired 250 rounds in all while I fired about 200.

"It was a pretty fight but it was over in a few moments.

"Some of the bullets fired by the German pierced the wings of Hall's machine."

Captain Hall served as a private in the British army. He returned to America and wrote a book called "Kitchener's Mob."

He is now writing a serial about his air adventures.

Rickenbacker drove cars in many of the biggest auto races in the United States and is proving himself a very daring flyer.

The machine shot down by Captain Hall and Lieut Rickenbacker was the third officially reported in the past three weeks. Several others were unofficially said to have been brought down.

LIBERTY LOAN STILL SHORT $500,000,000

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—Less than $500,000,000 remains to be subscribed to bring the third Liberty Loan up to the minimum quota of $3,000,000. Actual subscriptions based on returns received from the twelve Federal Reserve districts since last night were announced by the treasury department today as totalling $2,509,814,600. That the drive is gathering force in the closing days is indicated by large daily totals being recorded, and treasury officials were decidedly hopeful that the $3,000,000,000 minimum would be exceeded by a large sum.

Every state in the Minneapolis district has subscribed its quota, it was officially announced, and the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank is unofficially claiming that every county in the district has "Gone over the top."

Michigan Now Dry.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—Michigan's statewide "bone dry" law went into effect at midnight and liquor dealers in the state closed for all time their places of business. There was no rioting nor even hilarity or "cutting up" such as usually attends the closing of saloons. Detroit is the largest city in the world that has put the ban on the liquor traffic, but the population evinced no regret at the passing of John Barleycorn.

PEACE OFFER A GERMAN BLUFF

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—Accepting as true the statement from The Hague that German newspapers are predicting a peace move by Pope Benedict at Whitsuntide the "forecast" was regarded here as very plain German propaganda. Officials would not, of course, discuss the statement but it was very evident that their view is that His Holiness must know that a peace proposal at this juncture would have no possible chance of success.

Peace is the last thing in the minds of all the Allies at this moment for more than ever it is evident that it is now a war to the death of either autocracy or the freedom of the world. President Wilson's words at Baltimore, "Force, force to the utmost" and Lloyd-George's words of only the other day that "This is no time for debate if democracy is to be saved," leave no doubt of where the Allies stand on the question of peace

It is little to be doubted that German newspapers are being fed on "information" that the Pope is about to come to the rescue of the kaiser through a move for a peace discussion and that such "information" is welcomed in Berlin because of Germany's successes in the west. Nothing could be more to the purpose of Berlin than a peace debate at this time but it is easily to be seen, officials declare that the final decision on the west front is still far from being in Germany's favor. The news of every day makes this plainer and plainer, it is said.

In this situation it is seriously doubted that the Pope has any intention of launching a proposal that would be sure of rejection. If he addressed the nations, he would, of course, be given a respectful hearing in all the Allied capitals He would then, in all probability receive from one, possibly President Wilson, speaking, the reasons why the free nations of the world cannot treat with an undefeated despot.

At the papal legations nothing was known of the alleged intention of the Pope. Members of congress were unanimous in the opinion that the whole thing was nothing but German propaganda and would be so regarded.

STORMY SCENES IN PRUSSIAN DIET

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Copenhagen, May 1. — Stormy scenes occurred in the Prussian Diet on Tuesday when a member of the Center proposed that the question of electoral reform be postponed until after the war, said advices from the frontier today. Soldiers participated in the debate.

Liberal members strongly rejected the proposal for delay and predicted serious consequences.

Herr Hoffman, an independent Socialist, declared that if the proposal to delay the reforms was accepted he would ask the soldiers not to fight any longer.

This caused great excitement and there were cries of "Traitor."

After excited debate the proposal was rejected.

Count von Hertling, the chancellor, advocated general suffrage.

Herr Forsch, a minority Center member, spoke in favor of a general election.

The Prussian Diet is the law-making body for the kingdom of Prussia, as aside from the Reichstag which represents the German Empire. The question of electoral reform has long been advocated in Prussia and has proved the vital question of domestic politics since the beginning of the war.

HEAVY FIRING ON AMERICAN FRONT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the French Battle Front, April 30.—Heavy artillery duelling, although not comparable to the gigantic gun battle further north in violence, has characterized the past forty-eight hours of fighting on the American sector between Amiens and Paris.

The American and French batteries have proved more active than those of the Germans during this period, the Boches contenting themselves with desultory counter battery work.

Certain of the American batteries concentrated their fire against a certain village which was known as a concentration point of the enemy. It was showered with shells and aerial observation carried on subsequently showed that the result was highly successful.

Many buildings had been battered to pieces and it is believed that the Germans in that region suffered heavy casualties

Infantry activity has been limited to patrolling during the hours of the night. The parties have been numerous but small.

Both sides have contented themselves with artillery pounding mainly

"BAD BILL" MONROE IN TROUBLE AGAIN

This Time He is Accused of Burglary —He Had Also Eloped With His Brother's Widow—"German Spy" Arrested With Him.

"Bad Bill" Monroe, the former terror of southern Ulster, was arrested by Under Sheriff Hallock of Orange County on Monday, charged with burglary at Mountainville. With him was arrested a man named Meyer who the Newburgh authorities believe may be a German spy. Meyer gave his address as 103 Chestnut street, Rochester, but according to the Rochester authorities he is not known at that address. He as well as "Bad Bill" are being held on a technical charge of being engaged in the handling of explosives without a permit

Under Sheriff Hallock had received word from Mountainville that there had been some robberies there and it had come to light that "Bad Bill" was working on the Houghton farm there. His record was such that he was suspected. It appeared that he had been in the neighborhood for some weeks, under his right name, but had not been connected with the "Bad Bill" of southern Ulster, but when the robberies were committed and it became known that he was in that section there was considerable alarm and the sheriff was sent for.

"Bad Bill" and Meyer were found working together when placed under arrest.

Tuesday afternoon "Bad Bill" was taken to Highland Mills for a hearing on a charge of having burglarized the home of Stephen Smith and also on a similar charge with reference to the Houghton farm.

Following "Bad Bill's" arrest his home was searched and there was found the widow of his brother, a young woman who formerly resided in Middletown, Monroe, it developed, had been living in Newburgh all winter under an assumed name. He went from Newburgh to Middletown and there induced his brother's widow to accompany him to Mountainville

In "Bad Bill's" home when searched was found some bedding, linen, etc., which have been identified as having been taken from the Smith home.

Mrs. Monroe said they had been brought to the house by Bill, and added she suspected him of having stolen them but did not know he had done so.

170 SOLDIERS FOR RECONSTRUCTION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—General Pershing has sent back a total of 170 soldiers to receive treatment in reconstruction hospitals in this country, according to a statement by Lieut. Col. Billings, M. R. C., in charge of that section of the medical department here today.

These men have been received at different times at the depot of the corps at Ellis Island, from which they are distributed among the several hospitals set aside for reconstruction purposes in this country.

Col. Billings reports excellent progress in the rehabilitation of these men, but states that plans for enlarging the work have been held up because priority in construction work has been denied by the war industries board.

Dead of Disease He Studied.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, May 1.—Dr. E. Fletcher Ingals, known for many years as a national authority on angina pectoris is dead here today of the disease which he studied for the greater part of his life. In a recent article in a leading medical magazine on this disease, the experiences of "Dr. X" are believed to have been those of Dr. Ingals. He was 70 years old.

Red Guard Defeated.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Copenhagen, May 1.—The Red Guard (Bolshevik) army in Finland has been defeated and dispersed, according to information received here today. Famine prevails at Helsingfors, the Finnish capital. The city has been without food for two days and many persons have starved to death.

Noise and Then Some.

A youngster sitting in a car on Fair street Tuesday afternoon enjoyed himself immensely for about fifteen minutes, continually tooting the automobile horn. The horn had a sound like a Sandy Hook foghorn and the noise was anything but agreeable. The "concert" finally ceased when the owner of the car came along and chased the youngster.

BAKER WILL ASK FOR ARMY OF 3,000,000

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—An American army of 3,000,000 combatant troops will be asked of congress by Secretary of War Baker when he appears on Capitol Hill next Monday to tell what he now finds necessary to make American arms successful in Europe, it was learned today. The whole question of increasing the American fighting strength has been threshed out by the president and Secretary Baker, and the entire cabinet also learned the details at yesterday's meeting. The very minimum of actual fighting men, exclusive of auxiliary troops, demanded by the situation, is 3,000,000, the administration is now convinced, very largely through the observations by the war secretary during his tour of the battle front.

A fighting total of 3,000,000 would involve a total army establishment of approximately 5,000,000 men, it is pointed out. There would have to be 1,500,000 auxiliary and replacement troops and about 500,000 others for emergencies.

Already there are before Congress bills providing for drafts that would bring these totals and it is doubted if any serious opposition to Baker's plans will develop although details may be contested.

KAISER'S MIND SEEMS AFFECTED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1—The German imperial tourage has become alarmed at the Kaiser's mental condition, said a Central News dispatch from Berne today quoting advices that had been received here.

The newspaper Epoch stated that the Kaiser has become the victim of hallucinations. His advisers are trying without avail to keep him from the battle front.

The Kaiser constantly speaks of his "Divine mission to save the world and humanity."

MAN WHO STARTED THE WAR IS DEAD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—Gabrie Prinzip, the assassin of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, in the summer of 1914 died prison fortress of Theresienstadt, yesterday of tuberculosis in the near Prague, said an Echange Telegraph despatch from The Hague today.

The assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne led to the world war which has engulfed Europe with blood for nearly four years. Austria charged that members of the Servian government were involved in the plot which led to the assassination on a Sunday afternoon in the little town of Saravejo.

POSTMASTERS WHO SHOULD BE REMOVED

The Freeman has been informed that certain ignorant small-fry postmasters in Ulster county have been insisting that a five-cent stamp be placed on letters to soldiers in the American Expeditionary Forces in France. A three-cent stamp for each ounce of weight is all that is required on a letter to a United States soldier, wherever he may be and any postal employe who makes an assertion to the contrary is grossly ignorant and incompetent and should be removed from office, as he doubtless will be if reported to the postmaster general in Washington. Such a mistake is inexcusable, as the post office department has sent out full and plain instructions covering the matter. The Freeman will take great pleasure in seeing to it that any evidence against a postmaster attempting to practice this petty extortion, or giving out this annoying and inexcusable misinformation, is reported to his superiors.

Fire Bell Don't Ring.

It is reported that the fire alarm bell on Cordts Hose Company engine house on Delaware avenue does not ring.

The Fuel Administration authorizes us to say that it considers the use of oil cook stoves and oil heaters at this time a very important help in the necessary conservation of coal for war purposes.

Heroes and Heroines

Behind the man behind the gun is the woman who stands over the stove. Her battlefield is the kitchen.

To her the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove means all-year comfort and convenience, but more especially so through the hot summer months. And it helps to win by saving coal—a vital need of the nation.

The New Perfection lights instantly. No soot, no ashes. With the Long Blue Chimney, the flame stays set, high or low, without attention. Roasts, toasts, broils, bakes. Used in more than 3,000,000 homes.

Ask your dealer for booklet, and ask, too, about the New Perfection Ovens. None better.

For hot water use the New Perfection Kerosene Water Heater.

The words "sweet potato" make us expect the potato to be sweet in flavor. And so it is. Likewise the words "Irish potato" make us expect the potato to be a native of Ireland. But it isn't.

Fact is, it was carried to Ireland from our own country three hundred years ago. But it was so universally adopted there and so largely used as the principal food of the peasantry, that the "white potato" became known as the "Irish potato."

A long, long time ago the Spaniards went to South America and discovering the white potato there, they sent some to their friends in Spain. From here they were sent to Italy, then to Belgium and finally to France. So that the Irish potato might now well carry the name of almost any of the Allied countries.

Poor France will have but few potatoes this year. Her men are too busy holding the line to plant their fields. Her ground is too soaked with the blood of battle, too torn with shell holes to be of use.

America has plenty of potatoes on hand and is ready to plant a larger crop than ever this year. Because of their bulk and because they sprout and spoil, they cannot be sent abroad as easily as wheat and the cereal grains.

But every extra potato eaten here in America will release two ounces or more of wheat.

The "Irish potato" should become the "Allied potato" during the present wheat shortage.

High Cost of Living Here and "Over There."

Next to the latest news of the war, the most popular subject of conservation is the high cost of living.

"Yes," complained a woman both of whose hands were loaded with diamonds, "The Food Administration asks us to save wheat, but many of the substitutes are more expensive and in these days of the high cost of living every penny counts."

It is true that some of the wheat substitutes do cost a cent or two per pound more than wheat, but this cannot be helped for they cost more to mill.

If they sold for twice, three times, yes, even if the other cereals sold for ten times more than wheat, however, the Food Administration would still urge the patriotic housewives of America to use them, for its purpose in doing so is not to show how cheaply you can run your household, but how to help win the war by saving the food the Allies need.

Let the American woman, who complains of the high cost of living and hesitates to pay these few extra cents that possibly some of the wheat substitutes cost her, read the following letter which was received by the Belgian High Commission of the United States, from Malines, in the occupied portion of Belgium.

"We are all well. We have told you about the heightened cost of living, but what will you say to this. Butter, 22 francs ($4.40) a kilo (2.2 pounds) meat 14 francs ($2.80) bacon 21 francs ($4.20); eggs, 1 franc 10 centimes (22 cents) each; a bag of potatoes, 125 francs, ($25.)"

Do you still think the prices you are paying for food a matter for complaint?

Potatoes Instead of Wheat.

One medium sized potato can take the place of one large slice of bread. Everybody has potatoes or can have them. Don't eat bread, eat potatoes!

Baked Potatoes.

Select smooth, medium sized potatoes. Scrub with a small vegetable brush and bake in a hot oven for about forty minutes or until soft. Remove from the oven, break the skin slightly in order that the steam can escape and serve as quickly as possible.

Boiled Potatoes.

Select potatoes of uniform size. Wash clean and without paring or else paring off only the thinnest possible layer of skin, drop at once into cold water to keep from becoming black. Cook the potatoes in salted boiling water until soft, which can be easily determined by piercing with a fork. When the potatoes are done, drain immediately, shake till dry, sprinkle with a little added salt and let stand uncovered in a hot place until serving time. If potatoes are boiled with their jackets on, cut a narrow band of skin from the center of each potato before boiling. This aids in removing the skin before the potato is eaten.

Lyonnaise Potatoes.

Cook 5 minutes 3 tablespoons fat with one small onion cut in thin slices; add 3 cold boiled potatoes cut in one-fourth inch slices and sprinkled with salt and pepper, stir until brown underneath, fold like an omelet and turn on a hot platter.

Scalloped Potatoes.

Wash, pare and slice potatoes into cold water. In greased dish place a layer of these potatoes, sprinkle with salt, dot over with one half tablespoon fat. Repeat this until the baking dish is nearly filled, then add hot milk until it may be seen through the top layer. Bake one and a quarter hours in a moderate oven or place back of the stove and cook slowly. The milk should not boil. A little grated cheese may be sprinkled over each layer if desired.

Waldorf Potatoes.

Cut cold boiled potatoes into cubes and mix one cup potatoes and one-half cup cream sauce, having previously added four tablespoons of grated cheese. Pour over potatoes and heat slowly without boiling.

Old Houses Affect Dreamers.

Here is what an old English journal says about the legend of old houses and odd dreams. Mothers! Here's Something New For Croup and Cold Troubles

An External Treatment That Replaces Internal "Dosing." You Can Let the Children Run Outdoors in All Weathers and Get Their Needed Fresh Air and Exercise.

Growing children need plenty of fresh air and outdoor exercise and this exposure is bound to cause some colds. These colds should not be neglected, and yet, mothers know that constant "dosing" is bad for the delicate stomachs of children.

The best protection is plenty of fresh air in the bedroom, and at the first signs of trouble a prompt application of the Southern external "vapor" treatment, Vick's VapoRub. You simply rub it well over the throat and chest, and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

Leave the covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases medicated vapors that are inhaled all night long, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages. In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. Usually croup is relieved within 15 minutes and colds over night.

The local druggists realize the value of an external treatment, especially in the case of small children, and in the interests of their customers, are offering VapoRub in any of the three sizes—25c, 50c or $1.00—on 30 days' trial. If you are not delighted with the results, the purchase price will be refunded.—Advertisement.

Painless Dentistry

The difference between painless and painful dentistry depends upon the carefulness and skillfulness of the operator. With good instruments, fresh medicines, local anaesthetics and nitrous oxide gas a careful and skillful dentist can perform all operations painlessly, even to the extraction of teeth.

Painless methods, earnest endeavor and reasonable prices have in thirty years, made the Cady Dental Corporation the largest dental organization in New York state.

MILK CONTRACTS SIGNED BY BORDENS

Dealers Accept May and June Prices —League Has Option on Borden Farm Products Plant—Future Outlook Good.

Again trouble between dealers and the Dairymen's League caused by the serious market situation has been averted without a milk strike. Not only is the trouble settled, but it looks now as if it would stay settled for some time to come.

The price of $2.46 for May milk to the producer and the reduction of one cent a quart to the consumer have been accepted by all the large dealers and nearly all of the smaller ones. This agreement was reached on condition that the Federal Milk Commission would immediately meet and set the June price so that dealers would know what to expect and could plan accordingly. The commission probably will meet and fix the June price at $1.80 for milk at 150 miles.

A few small manufacturing dealers have not yet agreed to pay the May price, claiming that there is no market for their product and payment of the price means financial ruin.

As a part of the settlement of the present trouble an agreement was made with the Bordens' Farm Products Company whereby a six months' option was secured by the League to purchase all of this company's plants. If this sale is finally made it will mean the most important far-reaching piece of co-operative action ever attempted by farmers. The Borden Farm Products Company is the largest distributor of fluid milk in New York, which probably means if the deal is finally consummated, that the League will eventually obtain control of all other companies and the entire distributing business.

The obtaining of the option to purchase was brought about by the present very serious market conditions and the troublesome question of surplus. By the agreement reached with the Bordens' Farm Products Company, this company will buy its entire supply of milk from the League. The details of this special agreement with the Bordens have not yet been determined, but will be published next week. One of the very immediate effects of the arrangement will be that Borden plants will keep open and pay League prices to League members during May and June.

While the June price of $1.80 is low, yet if this is taken in consideration with the very fair May price and also with the fact that the market situation is very bad and that hundreds of plants would have closed if some agreement had not been reached, the dairymen have climbed out of a bad situation.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scare and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Thursday.

Breakfast—Sliced bananas with cream; cornmeal and potato griddle cakes; *corn syrup; coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Cream of corn soup; *brown bread; stuffed potatoes; *baked dried apricots.

Dinner—Lime bean polenta; duchess potatoes; creamed cabbage; *apple nut and celery salad.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

*(May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.)

The potato is still with us, a strong army ready to serve the food cause. Conservation is just as much utilization of the foods that are plentiful as it is saving those that are scarce. Eating potatoes is the best kind of patriotism.

Potato and Cornmeal Griddle Cakes.

One egg, ½ cup milk, 1 cup mashed potato, 2 teaspoons corn syrup; ½ cup cornmeal; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.

Beat the egg, add the milk, the potato, the syrup and the sifted dry ingredients. Bake the cakes on a hot greased griddle.

Baked Dried Apricots.

One-half lb. dried apricots; ¼ cup honey; ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Wash the apricots thoroughly and soak them over-night, using enough water to cover them. In the morning use one cup of the water, add to it the honey and cinnamon; pour over the apricots in a baking pan, and bake in the oven until the apricots are tender, and the juice evaporated to about one-half.

Lima Bean Polenta.

One cup dried lima beans, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 onion, 1 pimento, 1 tablespoon molasses, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon salt, paprika, ⅛ teaspoon soda.

Wash and soak the beans over night. Drain, and put them to cook in the tomato juice to which the remaining ingredients have been added. Cook until the beans are tender and the mixture is thick enough to serve on plates.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Got Along With it Metals.

The liff dwellers ew nothing of the use of metals. Their knives were made from the bones of the deer, highly polishe and very sharp. Their household utensils consisted of pottery jars and casks made of fiber and covered with a substance resembling modern varnish. Although the earliest cliff dwellers were prehistoric, cave livers have existed in almost every age of the world.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The proof of the pudding is the eating.

Would'st thou both eat thy cake, and have it?

OLD KING CORN.

We are, as loyal American citizens, eating more of the maize which is our native food. The eating of corn is both a patriotic duty and a pleasure, for we know that cornmeal does not ship well, that the European housewife is not familiar with it, and it is not well adapted for baking in central kitchens, as most of the bread is baked abroad. White cornmeal is of equal nutritive value with the yellow, but it has a less pronounced flavor which makes it more agreeable to the southern palate, where it is largely used.

Casserole of Hominy.—Take four cupfuls of hominy, mix with three cupfuls of thin tomato sauce, highly seasoned with chopped green peppers or onions, or both; put alternate layers of hominy, tomato sauce and cheese finely cut, using a fourth of a pound. Bake in a moderate oven until slightly browned.

Corn Chowder.—Take a can of corn or two cupfuls of fresh corn, four potatoes cut in one-fourth-inch slices, two onions sliced, two cupfuls of water, a teaspoonful of cornstarch or two tablespoonfuls of barley flour, three cupfuls of scalded milk, three tablespoonfuls of beef drippings, and salt and pepper. Cook the onion, fat and flour, stirring often so that the onion will not burn. Add two cupfuls of water and the potatoes. Cook until the potatoes are soft; add corn and milk, and cook five minutes. Season with salt and pepper and serve.

Corn Parkerhouse Rolls.—Take one cupful of barley flour three-fourths of a cupful of corn meal, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, three tenspoonfuls of baking powder, a tablespoonful of fat, one egg, a tablespoonful of sugar and one-half cupful of milk. Sift the dry ingredients together cut in the fat. Add egg and milk to make a soft dough. Roll out and cut a third of an inch thick. Cut with a biscuit cutter, spread with fat and fold. Bake in a moderate oven.

ALLABEN.

Allaben, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clearwater were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox in Fox Hollow last Sunday.

Mrs. Herman Bell of Ashokan spent the day with Mrs. G. B. Riseley last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riseley and son of Stamford were guests of his father, Edmund Riseley, last Sunday.

Miss Bessie Zimmerman of Chichester was a guest of Mrs. Mary Soules last Sunday.

The Red Cross dance at the Glenbrook Friday evening of this week should be well attended. Everybody that wants to do their bit should make an effort to make it a success.

Miss Phebis Grant of Chichester was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Miller, in Broad Street Hollow, last Sunday.

The Red Cross meets every Wednesday at the Shandaken M. E. Church Hall, and a good attendance is desired.

Mrs. Mary Soules enjoyed an automobile ride to Chichester last Sunday.

Mrs. Harriet Hand of Broad Street Hollow was a guest of Mrs. Willard Gulnick on Monday of this week.

Elizabeth Pearsall of Kingston spent the week end at home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Freer and Mrs. Florence DuBois of Kingston were guests of G. F. Van Keuren last Thursday.

Watson Freer, 2nd, of Kingston, was a visitor in Allaben last week.

Joseph Garrety of Shandaken has been ill for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Van Keuren were in Phoenicia Monday evennig.

Mrs. Mary Rifenbary and the Misses Anna and Esther Riseley enjoyed an automobile trip to Kingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Van Deusen are in Kingston for a short tme. Mr. Van Deusen is consulting a doctor for treatment in regard to his health.

Daisy Patterson, who was run over by an automobile, is improving, and all of her friends are glad to hear it.

Mrs. Zack Bush, who has been so ill all winter, is improving a little.

R. F. Pearsall, George H. Gulnick and George Yerry, Jr., kindly consented to run their automobiles to the Red Cross dance Frday evening for all who wish to attend.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Porter are changing their residence from Allaben to Phoenicia. We can ill afford to part with Mr. and Mrs. Porter as they have been a great help to our place, but we wish them success in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson are expecting to move in T. O. Porter's residence.

The dancing class at the Fulton Club keeps increasing and all thank Mr. and Mrs. George Beekman for the interest they have taken in learning the young folks to dance, and the good time they all enjoy at the club Monday evenings.

The entertainment given by the Fish family was well attended. They will repeat their entertainment Thursday evening of this week at Pine Hill, and probably at Fleischmanns shortly.

The Third Liberty Loan is still progressing in our village. Hope everybody will help the boys over there.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Malcom visited at Eli Mackey's on Sunday.

J. H. Denniston and son, Roy, and Wilmott Traphagen motored to Ridgewood, N. J., and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lottie Constable visited at the home of Herbert Traphagen in Poughkeepsie last Friday.

Miss Mabel and Elizabeth Schoonmaker returned home from Florida last Tuesday after spending the winter there.

Miss Alta Wilkin is having a week's vacation from her school duties in Newburgh.

Miss Margaret Sell returned home Wednesday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller.

George Sherwood is able to be out again after a few days' illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sutton and daughter spent Sunday afternoon at H. W. Sutton's at Clintondale.

The Missionary Society which was to be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Van Wyck on May 9, has been postponed until a later date.

On Friday evening, April 26, about 125 people gathered at the parsonage to welcome home our pastor and his bride. During the evening Gerow Wilkin in a few well chosen words presented them with a purse of about $145 from the congregation and community of New Hurley. Mr. Scholten then expressed his appreciation and thanks to the gathering; and short addresses were made by the pastors present, they being the Rev. J. J. Van Strine and wife of New Prospect, the Rev. John Neander and wife of Gardiner, and the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Bayles of Walden. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served and at about 11:30 o'clock the company departed extending their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Scholten for a long and happy married life.

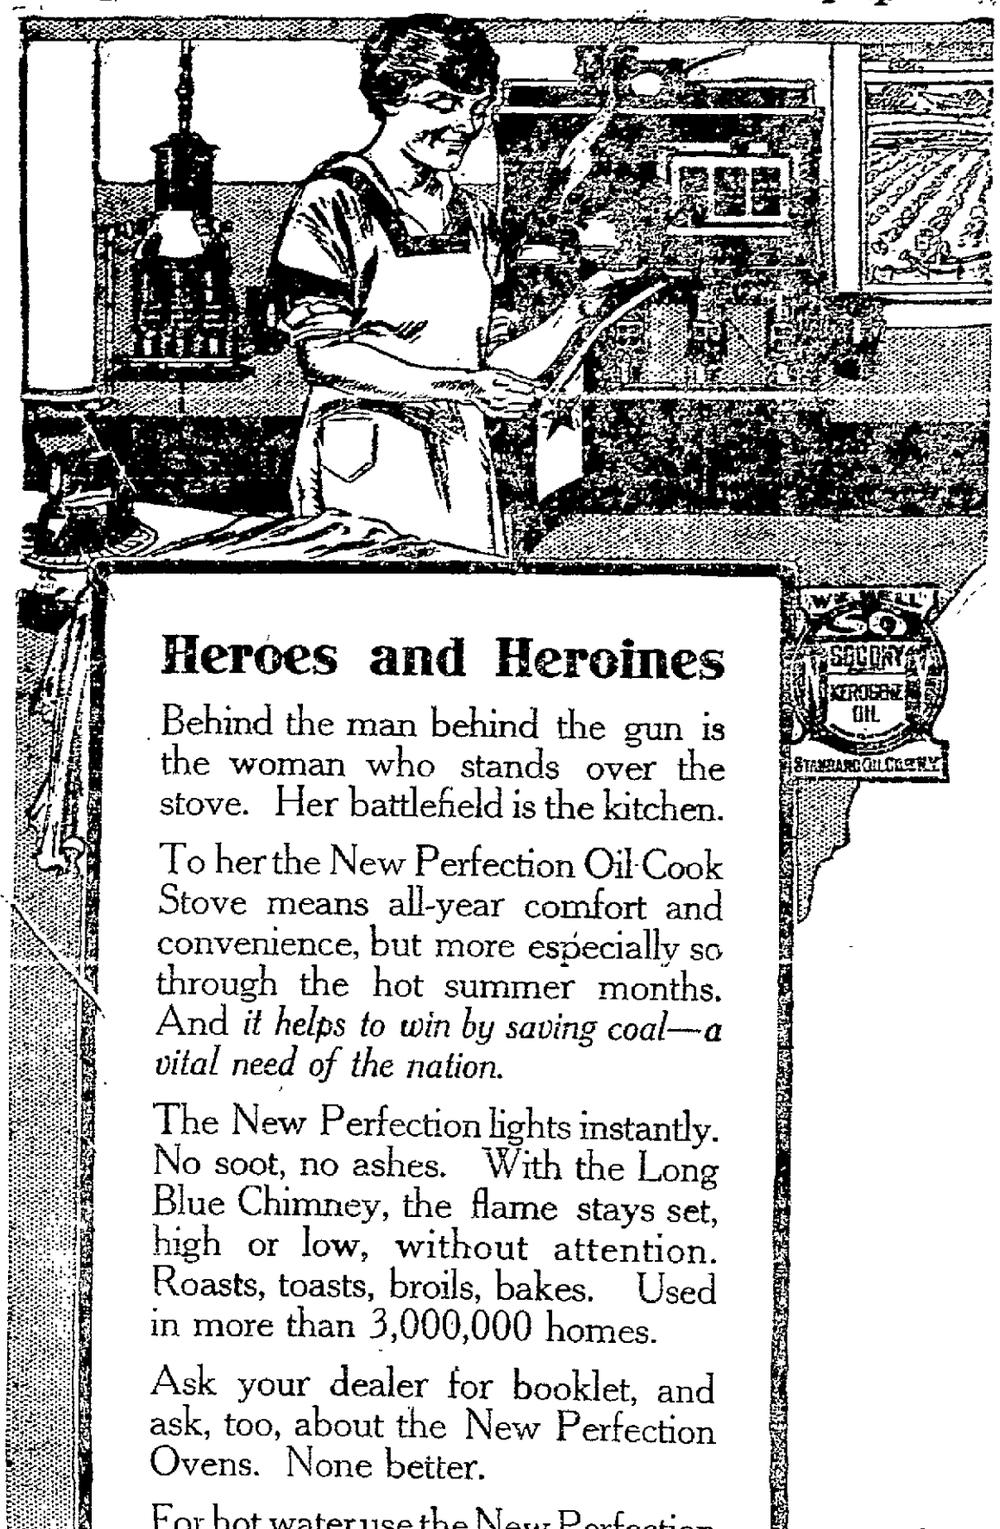
The Fuel Administration authorizes us to say that it considers the use of oil cook stoves and oil heaters at this time a very important help in the necessary conservation of coal for war purposes.



Heroes and Heroines

Behind the man behind the gun is the woman who stands over the stove. Her battlefield is the kitchen.

To her the New Perfection Oil-Cook Stove means all-year comfort and convenience, but more especially so through the hot summer months. And it helps to win by saving coal—a vital need of the nation.

The New Perfection lights instantly. No soot, no ashes. With the Long Blue Chimney, the flame stays set, high or low, without attention. Roasts, toasts, broils, bakes. Used in more than 3,000,000 homes.

Ask your dealer for booklet, and ask, too, about the New Perfection Ovens. None better.

For hot water use the New Perfection Kerosene Water Heater.

So-CO-NY Kerosene gives best results.

The words "sweet potato" make us expect the potato to be sweet in flavor. And so it is. Likewise the words "Irish potato" make us expect the potato to be a native of Ireland. But it isn't.

Fact is, it was carried to Ireland from our own country three hundred years ago. But it was so universally adopted there and so largely used as the principal food of the peasantry, that the "white potato" became known as the "Irish potato."

A long, long time ago the Spaniards went to South America and discovering the white potato there, they sent some to their friends in Spain. From here they were sent to Italy, then to Belgium and finally to France. So that the Irish potato might now well carry the name of almost any of the Allied countries.

Poor France will have but few potatoes this year. Her men are too busy holding the line to plant their fields. Her ground is too soaked with the blood of battle, too torn with shell holes to be of use.

America has plenty of potatoes on hand and is ready to plant a larger crop than ever this year. Because of their bulk and because they sprout and spoil, they cannot be sent abroad as easily as wheat and the cereal grains.

But every extra potato eaten here in America will release two ounces or more of wheat.

The "Irish potato" should become the "Allied potato" during the present wheat shortage.

High Cost of Living Here and "Over There."

Next to the latest news of the war, the most popular subject of conservation is the high cost of living.

"Yes," complained a woman both of whose hands were loaded with diamonds, "The Food Administration asks us to save wheat, but many of the substitutes are more expensive and in these days of the high cost of living every penny counts."

It is true that some of the wheat substitutes do cost a cent or two per pound more than wheat, but this cannot be helped for they cost more to mill.

If they sold for twice, three times, yes, even if the other cereals sold for ten times more than wheat, however, the Food Administration would still urge the patriotic housewives of America to use them, for its purpose in doing so is not to show how cheaply you can run your household, but how to help win the war by saving the food the Allies need.

Let the American woman, who complains of the high cost of living and hesitates to pay these few extra cents that possibly some of the wheat substitutes cost her, read the following letter which was received by the Belgian High Commission of the United States, from Malines, in the occupied portion of Belgium.

"We are all well. We have told you about the heightened cost of living, but what will you say to this. Butter, 22 francs ($4.40) a kilo (2.2 pounds) meat 14 francs ($2.80) bacon 21 francs ($4.20); eggs, 1 franc 10 centimes (22 cents) each; a bag of potatoes, 125 francs, ($25.)"

Do you still think the prices you are paying for food a matter for complaint?

Potatoes Instead of Wheat.

One medium sized potato can take the place of one large slice of bread. Everybody has potatoes or can have them. Don't eat bread, eat potatoes!

Baked Potatoes.

Select smooth, medium sized potatoes. Scrub with a small vegetable brush and bake in a hot oven for about forty minutes or until soft. Remove from the oven, break the skin slightly in order that the steam can escape and serve as quickly as possible.

Boiled Potatoes.

Select potatoes of uniform size. Wash clean and without paring or else paring off only the thinnest possible layer of skin, drop at once into cold water to keep from becoming black. Cook the potatoes in salted boiling water until soft, which can be easily determined by piercing with a fork. When the potatoes are done, drain immediately, shake till dry, sprinkle with a little added salt and let stand uncovered in a hot place until serving time. If potatoes are boiled with their jackets on, cut a narrow band of skin from the center of each potato before boiling. This aids in removing the skin before the potato is eaten.

Lyonnaise Potatoes.

Cook 5 minutes 3 tablespoons fat with one small onion cut in thin slices; add 3 cold boiled potatoes cut in one-fourth inch slices and sprinkled with salt and pepper, stir until brown underneath, fold like an omelet and turn on a hot platter.

Scalloped Potatoes.

Wash, pare and slice potatoes into cold water. In greased dish place a layer of these potatoes, sprinkle with salt, dot over with one half tablespoon fat. Repeat this until the baking dish is nearly filled, then add hot milk until it may be seen through the top layer. Bake one and a quarter hours in a moderate oven or place back of the stove and cook slowly. The milk should not boil. A little grated cheese may be sprinkled over each layer if desired.

Waldorf Potatoes.

Cut cold boiled potatoes into cubes and mix one cup potatoes and one-half cup cream sauce, having previously added four tablespoons of grated cheese. Pour over potatoes and heat slowly without boiling.

Old Houses Affect Dreamers.

Here is what an old English journal says about the legend of old houses and odd dreams. "There may be no real foundation for the belief that there is any necessary connection between old houses and odd dreams, yet it is most certainly true that people either born or having lived the greater part of their lives in them are more peculiarly sensitive than others to the influence of dreams."

It should not be necessary for National Food Administrator Hoover to tell men that had it not been for the regulations of the Food Administration flour would now be selling at prices ranging from $20 to $50 a barrel and that bread would have entirely disappeared from the American table. He told that to a New York audience on Tuesday. Everybody ought to realize the fact without being told, but there is a large proportion of the public which does not yet comprehend the fact which Hoover stated. Profiteers base their calculations on what has been accomplished in the way of profiteering during intermittent periods when crop conditions or speculation have caused prices to soar. They may not remember personally but they have heard and read of the fortunes which were accumulated during the War of the Rebellion by what is now universally regarded as simple profiteering. There are still profiteers who are ready to squeeze the public or the government—it matters not which—in order to accumulate more money. They lose sight of the larger economic conditions created by the world war: Crops are short because Germany has destroyed much of the most productive land of Europe; Russia's transportation has been awry for three years so that farmers have been unable to realize on earlier crops and thus have been unable to continue farming on the same big scale; both continents are supplying armies whose stupendous size almost staggers the imagination; labor is working to furnish munitions and so great has been the rush to the munition factories that our own agricultural lands are threatened with neglect, added to which condition must be considered the professional agitators who try to form the farmers in a class by themselves and induce them to refuse to produce. The United States must furnish the bulk of the world's food until after the war. If the world starves, of what benefit is either victory or defeat to the profiteer?

Army experts in Washington figure that the losses sustained by the Allies during the big drive which began early in March are almost equal to those sustained by Germany, but with the difference that German losses have been largely of killed and wounded while the losses to the Allies have been made up of killed, wounded and prisoners. Germans have been made prisoners as well as the soldiers of the Allies but Germany has left less opportunity for captures through her policy of throwing masses of troops against positions she wishes to capture. The result naturally has been terrific loss of life among the Huns. The immense number of soldiers produced by Germany confirms the opinion expressed some time ago that Germany has practiced deception even regarding her population and that the available supply of men capable of bearing arms has been far in excess of her announced numbers. Therefore Germany will continue to war against civilization, will continue her march for conquest of lands and nations until her man power becomes exhausted. General Leonard Wood recently warned America that Germany is far from being exhausted. Naturally her divisions suffer exhaustion from the terrific fire to which they are subjected and pauses become necessary for her to re-form her divisions and armies, supplying reserves to fill the gaps, and then attempting new thrusts. As long as extermination of the Hun can be better accomplished by fighting and retreating, just so long will that method of warfare be followed by the Allies, whose reserve force must be supplied by the United States. When that reserve is sufficiently large to make the greatest destruction possible by other means, such other means will be adopted. Probably it is no exaggeration to say that weekly some of our Ulster county boys are arriving in France. By degrees the reserve will become larger until we are ready to strike with our might, hard and effectively. It is then that we realize fully what war is.

American casualty lists up to this time are small. Their total is less than five thousand. We have not yet begun to fight. All our time has been spent since our entry in the war in preparing to fight and in preparing to turn out supplies. We have not yet begun to turn out the supplies which will be needed before the war ends. Production for many arms of the service has been devoted almost exclusively to practice purposes. While it is true that we have not shipped abroad a hundred airplanes, we have produced a great many for the instruction of our aviators. Our aviation force at the beginning was formed of men absolutely unacquainted with air travel, much less air fighting. To instruct these aviators required first a large amount of time in technical instruction not closely associated with actual flights. As the latter branch of the work is taken up there is more or less destruction of airplanes; a greenhorn cannot be expected to run a new machine perfectly the first or even the second time. The life of an airplane is not like the life of the Appian Way, which after the lapse of twenty-two centuries is still in use in places. When it is considered that we are training an army of thousands of aviators the production of airplanes for their use alone necessarily must be large. So, also, the production of munitions and supplies must be kept up in order to freshen and replace supplies previously turned out; there can be no stop in the industrial lines until war has ceased. Occasionally there is a tendency to slacken speed in production of this character. After our casualty lists begin to show serious inroads of the war every American will not only resume the former speed but will increase it. It is only when the casualty lists strike home that we forget nonsensical squabbles and devote our undivided time and energy to the work before us. It is at that time, also, we discover we have not yet made any sacrifices worth speaking of, and we settle down with grim earnestness to win the war.

CATS MUST BE GOOD.

Or the Policemen May "Humanely Destroy" Them.

Cats with a fondness for birds had better beware. Governor Whitman has set his hand and seal to a new law dooming all bird-killing pussies.

"Any person over the age of twenty-one years," reads the law, "who is the holder of a valid hunting and trapping license, may, and it shall be the duty of a game protector or other peace officer to, humanely destroy a cat at large found hunting or killing any bird protected by law or with a dead bird of any species protected by law in its possession; and no action for damages shall be maintained for such killing."

Cat bills of many varieties have, in the past, been presented to different state legislatures. Some have called for bells on cats, some for collars and licenses, but the present law is the first to be passed in any state. Its promoters have framed it with the idea of attacking, not the well fed and cared for house pet, but the wandering, hunting or homeless cat, which has become so great a menace to our wild bird life.

Figures gathered by the conservation commission indicate that common cats cause more destruction among insectivorous and game birds than any other agency. The present law is intended to encourage all persons, who are sufficiently responsible to carry a gun, to aid in checking the numbers of bird-hunting and bird killing cats.

The new law goes into effect immediately.

CORONER'S INQUEST FINISHED TUESDAY

Held to Fix the Responsibility for the Broadway Crossing Accident—Witnesses Agreed on Some Points—Decision to Be Filed Later.

The inquest held by Coroner Earnest A. Kelly to place the responsibility for the accident of March 4 on the Broadway crossing when the early morning West Shore newspaper train crashed into a Kingston city trolley car resulting in the death of three men and injuring fifteen, was finished Tuesday afternoon. The coroner will file his decision later.

Only three witnesses were called Tuesday afternoon and practically no testimony of definite value was brought out. The testimony was relative to the movement of freight cars in the West Shore yard the morning of the accident.

Tuesday's testimony brought out more corroborative evidence that there were cars in the yard that morning, but the railroad men who testified were not sure whether the cars were moved before or after the accident.

Those called to testify were James Cahill, day switchman; Cornelius Ryan, night switchman, Louis Van Graveness, in charge of the switch engine.

The coroner's verdict will be awaited with much interest. It is said that a number of suits are pending, some against the trolley road and some against the railroad.

Over fifty witnesses testified during the inquest, and most of the testimony seemed to agree on the following points: that the gates were either up or were lowered when the trolley was practically on the railroad tracks; that the train was running fast and the trolley not going more than ten miles an hour; and that no bell or whistle signal was given by the train.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Frank M. Cronk of this city has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court. The testator gives the life use of his estate to his wife, Elizabeth Cronk, at whose death the remainder is directed to be divided among their children, Frank, Henry C. and Seth E. Cronk. Mrs. Cronk is appointed executrix. The will was executed March 22, 1918, and witnessed by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier and former City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr. The value of the estate is $4,000 personal property. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier appeared for the executrix.

The will of Anna Goodgion of the town of Gardiner was admitted to probate. The testatrix gives her estate to her daughter, Mabel G. Cornish, who is appointed executrix. The will was executed April 17, 1915, and witnessed by Hector Sears and Carrie W. Sears. The value of the estate is $7,750 personal property. Hector Sears appeared for the executrix.

Letters of administration on the estate of Elias Mulford of the town of Saugerties, were issued to his daughter, Carrie J. Birdsall of Newark, N. J. The value of the real is $12,000 and the personal property amounts to $35,000. Cantline & Dominick of Newburgh, appeared for the administratrix.

Letters of administration on the estate of Ernest A. Mann of the town of Saugerties were issued to Belle Mann. The value of the estate is $300 personal property. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier appeared for the administratrix.

MARINE INSURANCE RATES REDUCED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—The effectiveness of German U boats against American cargo ships has been so greatly reduced that a new reduction in marine insurance rates will be announced by the war risk insurance bureau late this afternoon.

"The U boats simply are not getting the ships," William A. Delanoy, director of the war risk insurance bureau, told the house interstate and foreign commerce committee today. "That is the fact, and it reflects an enormous amount of credit on the wonderful convoy system perfected by the navy department."

Since the formation of the war risk insurance bureau, Delanoy said, it had made $17,000,000 net profits. This had been possible in the face of a constant reduction in marine insurance rates. Starting at 6½ per cent the rate has now been reduced to 3 per cent and it was learned is slated for still further reduction.

Delanoy spoke in favor of amendments to the war risk insurance act which would permit the insurance of the shipping of friendly neutrals, as well as that of the United States, and its co-belligerents. This was necessary, he said, because American insurance companies, deprived of the assistance formerly given by the German companies operating in the United States, are not able to take care of the business.

FRENCH SOLDIERS WORK RECONQUERED LAND

When Out of Trenches They Put Fertile Fields of Aisne Under Cultivation.

At the beginning of the war agriculture suffered greatly in France because the man power was taken for the army. The women and children and old men were the only ones left to work the land. As the war progressed it became evident that there had to be more men for the land, and various measures were put before the chamber of deputies to supply men for the land, but all of them came down in the final analysis to taking men away from the army.

The solution seems to have been reached at last in the method taken for putting the reconquered districts once more under cultivation. It is done by the soldiers. As soon as the land is cleared of the Germans it is turned back to the owners or to the soldiers who have been longest in service. In most cases it is the soldiers, who thus go back in their time away from the front line to the land they love.

No soldier spends all his time in the first line. In the average not more than 25 per cent. of the time is spent in the first line and a trifle more in support. Approximately 40 per cent. of a soldier's time is passed in the reserve. This part of his days the soldier of long service can now put in on the land, cultivating the territory reconquered from the Germans, remaking the fertile fields of France.

It is with such men as these the American people are asked to become fellow defenders of freedom, not only for France, but for the world through their support of the coming Third Liberty Loan.

THE UNCONQUERABLE SPIRIT.

French First Aid Survivors Show It After Hun Attack.

When the French captured Maurepas in the great Somme offensive of 1916 there was a first aid hospital right up in the front lines. The complement was 54 men—doctors, stretcher bearers, orderlies and ambulance drivers. A big German counter bombardment tried to stop the attack on Maurepas, and one German shell landed in the first aid post. All but 17 of the hospital post were killed or wounded.

When the fight was over they were ordered back to the rear with the two ambulances that remained to them. Arrived in Amiens, all were given leave, but they refused to take it.

"We don't want leave," they said. "We want to be brought up to strength again and go back to the front."

That is the way with Americans in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. The American with the fighting spirit does not buy a bond and think he has done his duty. He gets more money and goes back to buy another.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 9

AN ACT authorizing the board of education of union free school district number two of the town of Wawarsing, Ulster county, to file with the state comptroller the tax list of nineteen hundred and sixteen, and declaring the effect of such filing.

Became a law February 20, 1918, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The board of education of union free school district number two of the town of Wawarsing, Ulster county, is hereby authorized, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to file with the comptroller a tax list of the assessments in such district for the year nineteen hundred and sixteen, and thereupon such list shall be deemed to have been filed pursuant to subdivision three of section four hundred and forty of the education law, and the assessment of state lands on such list when approved by the comptroller shall have the same force and effect as if such list had been duly filed as required by such subdivision.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, ss.:

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole of said original law.

Secretary of State.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 33.

AN ACT to authorize the trustees of Kingston Academy to transfer its real property to the city of Kingston to be held as a public park.

Became a law March 4, 1918, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

Accepted by the City.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The trustees of Kingston Academy are hereby authorized to transfer and convey all or any part of their real property situate within the bounds of the city of Kingston unto the said city of Kingston in trust to be held as a public park upon such terms or conditions as may be agreed upon. Such transfer shall not be deemed to work a dissolution of such academical corporation or to divest it of any of its corporate rights and privileges. In case of the transfer of said real property the said city of Kingston shall have no power to lease, sell or incumber the same but the same shall be held and used as specified in the deed or instrument of transfer.

Mothers! Here's Something New For Croup and Cold Troubles

An External Treatment That Replaces Internal "Dosing." You Can Let the Children Run Outdoors in All Weathers and Get Their Needed Fresh Air and Exercise.

Growing children need plenty of fresh air and outdoor exercise and this exposure is bound to cause some colds. These colds should not be neglected, and yet, mothers know that constant "dosing" is bad for the delicate stomachs of children.

The best protection is plenty of fresh air in the bedroom, and at the first signs of trouble a prompt application of the Southern external "vapor" treatment, Vick's VapoRub. You simply rub it well over the throat and chest, and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

Leave the covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases medicated vapors that are inhaled all night long, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages. In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. Usually croup is relieved within 15 minutes and colds over night.

The local druggists realize the value of an external treatment, especially in the case of small children, and in the interests of their customers, are offering VapoRub in any of the three sizes—25c, 50c or $1.00—on 30 days' trial. If you are not delighted with the results, the purchase price will be refunded.—Advertisement.

Painless Dentistry

The difference between painless and painful dentistry depends upon the carefulness and skillfulness of the operator. With good instruments, fresh medicines, local anaesthetics and nitrous oxide gas a careful and skillful dentist can perform all operations painlessly, even to the extraction of teeth.

Painless methods, earnest endeavor and reasonable prices have in thirty years, made the Cady Dental Corporation the largest dental organization in New York state.

MILK CONTRACTS SIGNED BY BORDENS

Dealers Accept May and June Prices —League Has Option on Borden Farm Products Plant—Future Outlook Good.

Again trouble between dealers and the Dairymen's League caused by the serious market situation has been averted without a milk strike. Not only is the trouble settled, but it looks now as if it would stay settled for some time to come.

The price of $2.46 for May milk to the producer and the reduction of one cent a quart to the consumer have been accepted by all the large dealers and nearly all of the smaller ones. This agreement was reached on condition that the Federal Milk Commission would immediately meet and set the June price so that dealers would know what to expect and could plan accordingly. The commission probably will meet and fix the June price at $1.80 for milk at 150 miles.

A few small manufacturing dealers have not yet agreed to pay the May price, claiming that there is no market for their product and payment of the price means financial ruin.

As a part of the settlement of the present trouble an agreement was made with the Bordens' Farm Products Company whereby a six months' option was secured by the League to purchase all of this company's plants. If this sale is finally made it will mean the most important far-reaching piece of co-operative action ever attempted by farmers. The Borden Farm Products Company is the largest distributor of fluid milk in New York, which probably means if the deal is finally consummated, that the League will eventually obtain control of all other companies and the entire distributing business.

The obtaining of the option to purchase was brought about by the present very serious market conditions and the troublesome question of surplus. By the agreement reached with the Bordens' Farm Products Company, this company will buy its entire supply of milk from the League. The details of this special agreement with the Bordens have not yet been determined, but will be published next week. One of the very immediate effects of the arrangement will be that Borden plants will keep open and pay League prices to League members during May and June.

While the June price of $1.80 is low, yet if this is taken in consideration with the very fair May price and also with the fact that the market situation is very bad and that hundreds of plants would have closed if some agreement had not been reached, the dairymen have climbed out of a bad situation.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scare and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Thursday.

Breakfast—Sliced bananas with cream; cornmeal and potato griddle cakes; *corn syrup; coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Cream of corn soup; *brown bread; stuffed potatoes; *baked dried apricots.

Dinner—Lima bean polenta; duchess potatoes; creamed cabbage; *apple nut and celery salad.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

*(May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.)

The potato is still with us, a strong army ready to serve the food cause. Conservation is just as much utilization of the foods that are plentiful as it is saving those that are scarce. Eating potatoes is the best kind of patriotism.

Potato and Cornmeal Griddle Cakes.

One egg, ½ cup milk, 1 cup mashed potato, 2 teaspoons corn syrup; ½ cup cornmeal; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.

Beat the egg, add the milk, the potato, the syrup and the sifted dry ingredients. Bake the cakes on a hot greased griddle.

Baked Dried Apricots.

One-half lb. dried apricots; ¼ cup honey; ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Wash the apricots thoroughly and soak them over-night, using enough water to cover them. In the morning use one cup of the water, add to it the honey and cinnamon; pour over the apricots in a baking pan, and bake in the oven until the apricots are tender, and the juice evaporated to about one-half.

Lima Bean Polenta.

One cup dried lima beans, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 onion, 1 pimento, 1 tablespoon molasses, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon salt, paprika, ½ teaspoon soda.

Wash and soak the beans over night. Drain, and put them to cook in the tomato juice to which the remaining ingredients have been added. Cook until the beans are tender and the mixture is thick enough to serve on plates.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Got Along With it Metals.

The cliff dwellers ew nothing of the use of metals. Their knives were made from the bones of the deer, highly polishe and very sharp. Their household utensils consisted of pottery jars and casks made of fiber and covered with a substance resembling modern varnish. Although the earliest cliff dwellers were prehistoric, cave livers have existed in almost every age of the world.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The proof of the pudding is the eating.

Would'st thou both eat thy cake, and have it?

OLD KING CORN.

We are, as loyal American citizens, eating more of the maize which is our native food. The eating of corn is both a patriotic duty and a pleasure, for we know that cornmeal does not ship well, that the European housewife is not familiar with it, and it is not well adapted for baking in central kitchens, as most of the bread is baked abroad. White cornmeal is of equal nutritive value with the yellow, but it has a less pronounced flavor which makes it more agreeable to the southern palate, where it is largely used.

Casserole of Hominy.—Take four cupfuls of hominy, mix with three cupfuls of thin tomato sauce, highly seasoned with chopped green peppers or onions, or both; put alternate layers of hominy, tomato sauce and cheese finely cut, using a fourth of a pound. Bake in a moderate oven until slightly browned.

Corn Chowder.—Take a can of corn or two cupfuls of fresh corn, four potatoes cut in one-fourth-inch slices, two onions sliced, two cupfuls of water, a teaspoonful of cornstarch or two tablespoonfuls of barley flour, three cupfuls of scalded milk, three tablespoonfuls of beef drippings, and salt and pepper. Cook the onion, fat and flour, stirring often so that the onion will not burn. Add two cupfuls of water and the potatoes. Cook until the potatoes are soft; add corn and milk, and cook five minutes. Season with salt and pepper and serve.

Corn Parkerhouse Rolls.—Take one cupful of barley flour three-fourths of a cupful of corn meal, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a tablespoonful of fat, one egg, a tablespoonful of sugar and one-half cupful of milk. Sift the dry ingredients together cut in the fat. Add egg and milk to make a soft dough. Roll out and cut a third of an inch thick. Cut with a biscuit cutter, spread with fat and fold. Bake in a moderate oven.

ALLABEN.

Allaben, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clearwater were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox in Fox Hollow last Sunday.

Mrs. Herman Bell of Ashokan spent the day with Mrs. G. B. Riseley last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riseley and son of Stamford were guests of his father, Edmund Riseley, last Sunday.

Miss Bessie Zimmerman of Chichester was a guest of Mrs. Mary Soules last Sunday.

The Red Cross dance at the Glenbrook Friday evening of this week should be well attended. Everybody that wants to do their bit should make an effort to make it a success.

Miss Phebis Grant of Chichester was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Miller, in Broad Street Hollow, last Sunday.

The Red Cross meets every Wednesday at the Shandaken M. E. Church Hall, and a good attendance is desired.

Mrs. Mary Soules enjoyed an automobile ride to Chichester last Sunday.

Mrs. Harriet Hand of Broad Street Hollow was a guest of Mrs. Willard Gulnick on Monday of this week.

Elizabeth Pearsall of Kingston spent the week end at home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Freer and Mrs. Florence DuBois of Kingston were guests of G. F. Van Keuren last Thursday.

Watson Freer, 2nd, of Kingston, was a visitor in Allaben last week.

Joseph Garrety of Shandaken has been ill for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Van Keuren were in Phoenicia Monday evennig.

Mrs. Mary Rifenbary and the Misses Anna and Esther Riseley enjoyed an automobile trip to Kingston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Van Deusen are in Kingston for a short time. Mr. Van Deusen is consulting a doctor for treatment in regard to his health.

Daisy Patterson, who was run over by an automobile, is improving, and all of her friends are glad to hear it.

Mrs. Zack Bush, who has been so ill all winter, is improving a little.

R. F. Pearsall, George H. Gulnick and George Terry, Jr., kindly consented to run their automobiles to the Red Cross dance Frday evening for all who wish to attend.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Porter are changing their residence from Allaben to Phoenicia. We can ill afford to part with Mr. and Mrs. Porter as they have been a great help to our place, but we wish them success in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson are expecting to move in T. O. Porter's residence.

The dancing class at the Fulton Club keeps increasing and all thank Mr. and Mrs. George Boekman for the interest they have taken in learning the young folks to dance, and the good time they all enjoy at the club Monday evenings.

The entertainment given by the Fish family was well attended. They will repeat their entertainment Thursday evening of this week at Pine Hill, and probably at Fleischmanns shortly.

The Third Liberty Loan is still progressing in our village. Hope everybody will help the boys over there.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Malcom visited at Eli Mackey's on Sunday.

J. H. Denniston and son, Roy, and Wilmott Traphagen motored to Ridgewood, N. J., and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lottie Constable visited at the home of Herbert Traphagen in Poughkeepsie last Friday.

Miss Mabel and Elizabeth Schoonmaker returned home from Florida last Tuesday after spending the winter there.

Miss Alta Wilkin is having a week's vacation from her school duties in Newburgh.

Miss Margaret Sell returned home Wednesday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller.

George Sherwood is able to be out again after a few days' illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sutton and daughter spent Sunday afternoon at H. W. Sutton's at Clintondale.

The Missionary Society which was to be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Van Wyck on May 9, has been postponed until a later date.

On Friday evening, April 26, about 125 people gathered at the parsonage to welcome home our pastor and his bride. During the evening Gerow Wilkin in a few well chosen words presented them with a purse of about $145 from the congregation and community of New Hurley. Mr. Scholten then expressed his appreciation and thanks to the gathering, and short addresses were made by the pastors present, they being the Rev. J. J. Van Strine and wife of New Prospect, the Rev. John Neander and wife of Gardiner, and the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Bayles of Walden. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served and at about 11:30 o'clock the company departed extending their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Scholten for a long and happy married life.

HELPING THE BOYS WHEN THEY GO AWAY

The National Army boys who left town on Tuesday morning for Camp Dix, N. J., were presented with a large basket of fruit by Ralph Mann, the fruit and bicycle supply dealer of East Strand. Beginning with the first detail which left Kingston on September 7th of last year, Mr. Mann has presented a large basket of fruit to the boys of each contingent that has left Kingston for National Army service. The boys have appreciated Mr. Mann's remembrance and have enjoyed the fruit while en route to their cantonments.

The boys' luggage was conveyed from the headquarters of the local exemption boards to the West Shore station by one of the auto delivery trucks of Stock & Cordts. The work of handling the luggage at the offices of the local boards and placing it safely aboard the train and also distributing it to the owners when they had entrained has been undertaken by Fire Commissioner Charles Lahl as each contingent has left Kingston and he again performed that service on Tuesday.

20TH REUNION OF COMPANY M VETS.

The twentieth anniversary of the departure of Company M. National Guard, from Kingston to take part in the Spanish-American war, will be celebrated Thursday evening by a banquet at Cuneo's Inn at Lake Katrine.

Of the 106 men who left Kingston on May 2, 1898, fifty-three are expected to be present at Thursday's reunion. Among them will be Captain Robert F. Tompkins of New York city, who commanded the company, and ex-Sheriff Decker of Middletown, who was a lieutenant of Company I. Captain Tompkins will reach Kingston during the afternoon.

The company will leave the armory at 6 o'clock and after a short parade through town will go directly to Lake Katrine, where dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

EXEMPT FIREMEN TO HOLD 29TH REUNION

The Exempt Firemen's Association will hold its regular meeting and banquet on Thursday evening at 8:45 o'clock at the Central Fire Station.

This will be the twenty-ninth annual reunion of the old Vamps who always look forward to a good time on these occasions.

Of the thirty-eight charter members, only nine of the old boys are left. They are Albert Adams, Thomas Caplis, George W. Newkirk, S. G. Canfield, Frank H. Griffiths, William B. Scott, George Messinger, Charles Riddick and Henry Wilmott.

The association is in a flourishing condition. There are now eighty members on the roll, which includes some of the best known and bravest of the fire fighters of the old volunteer system.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 1.—Mrs. M. Kelsch and daughter, Hilda, who have been spending a week with Mrs. Frank Dorr on Stout avenue, have returned to their home in Kingston.

Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in their rooms in Spinneweber's Hall on Broadway.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held Thursday afternoon at home of Mrs. George Fairbrother on Green street at 3 o'clock. All members of the society are requested to be present.

Miss Anna Bruck of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. Frank Dorr on Stout avenue.

The treasurer of the Reformed Church gave his annual report Sunday evening, showing a nice balance on hand despite of the fact they have been without a pastor since last November.

The citizens of Port Ewen and vicinity will be given the opportunity of tripping the light fantastic at the Pythian Hall tonight when the Alumni hold their patriotic dance. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of a service flag for the former students of School No. 13, who have entered the service, and also for the Red Cross Aid. The people of Port Ewen have responded liberally so far, but why not make it unanimous? If you do not dance, come just the same and your presence will be greatly appreciated. The Alumni Association has invited Superintendent of Schools John U. Gillette, under whose direction this association was organized, to present during the evening the service flag to the school which will be accepted on behalf of the school by Principal Mead Davis. The committee in charge have obtained Miller's orchestra for the occasion. Members of the Alumni are requested to wear the red, white and blue colors. Dancing begins at 8 o'clock. Admission—Ladies, 15 cents; gents, 25 cents. Everybody welcome.

A meeting of the consistory of the Reformed Church will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room.

The Rev. Lemuel Appledorne will begin his pastorate in his new charge in the Reformed Church Sunday, May 19. Mr. Appledorne comes highly recommended and those who heard him as a candidate were very favorably impressed.

Mrs. Donald Decker and son, Donald, Jr., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sleight in Wallkill, have returned to their home on Broadway after enjoying a most delightful visit.

Charles Barringer of Kingston is laying the foundation for the house of Solomon Cole on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Drake on Green street on Tuesday.

CLINTONDALE.

Clintondale, May 1.—The pupils of the district school will give an entertainment in the Grange Hall on Friday evening, May 3rd. Proceeds for the Red Cross Society.

Mrs. Edward Lozier of Brooklyn, is spending some time with Mrs. M. W. Elmendorf.

Mrs. Hasbrouck Ellis spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haines at St. Remy.

Some of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. William York gave them a very pleasant surprise on Saturday evening last.

Mrs. Etta Davenport spent a few days last week in New York city.

Charles Thorn and Mr. Frank of Poughkeepsie, spent Sunday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sickler and son, Elwood, of Modena, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sickler.

Mrs. Grace Decker of Poughkeepsie, is visiting her son, Frank Decker and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton of New York, Wm. Sutton of Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Relyea, Wm. Relyea, Jr., and Miss Sadie Relyea, and Mrs. Elinor Terwilliger of Newburgh, were in town to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. W. Thomas.

Tracey Atkins and family have moved in the tenement house of Graham Gerald.

Mrs. Ann Knapp of Poughkeepsie, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Etta Davenport, has returned to her home.

At the official board meeting held at Modena on Monday evening it was decided to resume the regular preaching services in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening and discontinue the alternate service which had been held on Sunday morning during the latter part of the winter.

Solicitors for the Liberty Loan were out selling bonds during the week.

Rev. and Mrs Paul S. Hill and Miss May Walker have been in Brookiyn this week attending the sessions of the Pentecostal conference held in that city. The local church has given Mr. Hill a call as pastor, and it is expected that he will return in that capacity and give his whole attention to the work here. It is his intention to resign from the office of district superintendent which he holds, because of the extraordinary tax it has placed upon his health.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 1, 1918.

It should not be necessary for National Food Administrator Hoover to tell men that had it not been for the regulations of the Food Administration flour would now be selling at prices ranging from $30 to $50 a barrel and that bread would have entirely disappeared from the American table. He told that to a New York audience on Tuesday. Everybody ought to realize the fact without being told, but there is a large proportion of the public which does not yet comprehend the fact which Hoover stated. Profiteers base their calculations on what has been accomplished in the way of profiteering during intermittent periods when crop conditions or speculation have caused prices to soar. They may not remember personally but they have heard and read of the fortunes which were accumulated during the War of the Rebellion by what is now universally regarded as simple profiteering. There are still profiteers who are ready to squeeze the public or the government—it matters not which—in order to accumulate more money. They lose sight of the larger economic conditions created by the world war: Crops are short because Germany has destroyed much of the most productive land of Europe; Russia's transportation has been awry for three years so that farmers have been unable to realize on earlier crops and thus have been unable to continue farming on the same big scale; both continents are supplying armies whose stupendous size almost staggers the imagination; labor is working to furnish munitions and so great has been the rush to the munition factories that our own agricultural lands are threatened with neglect, added to which condition must be considered the professional agitators who try to form the farmers in a class by themselves and induce them to refuse to produce. The United States must furnish the bulk of the world's food. If the world starves, of what benefit is either victory or defeat to the profiteer?

Army experts in Washington figure that the losses sustained by the Allies during the big drive which began early in March are almost equal to those sustained by Germany, but with the difference that German losses have been largely of killed and wounded while the losses to the Allies have been made up of killed, wounded and prisoners. Germans have been made prisoners as well as the soldiers of the Allies but Germany has left less opportunity for captures through her policy of throwing masses of troops against positions she wishes to capture. The result naturally has been terrific loss of life among the Huns. The immense number of soldiers produced by Germany confirms the opinion expressed some time ago that Germany has practiced deception even regarding her population and that the available supply of men capable of bearing arms has been far in excess of her announced numbers. Therefore Germany will continue to war against civilization, will continue her march for conquest of lands and nations until her man power becomes exhausted. General Leonard Wood recently warned America that Germany is far from being exhausted. Naturally her divisions suffer exhaustion from the terrific fire to which they are subjected and pauses become necessary for her to re-form her divisions and armies, supplying reserves to fill the gaps, and then attempting new thrusts. As long as extermination of the Hun can be better accomplished by fighting and retreating, just so long will that method of warfare be followed by the Allies, whose reserve force must be supplied by the United States. When that reserve is sufficiently large to make the greatest destruction possible by other means, such other means will be adopted. Probably it is no exaggeration to say that weekly some of our Ulster county boys are arriving in France. By degrees the reserve will become larger until we are ready to strike with our might, hard and effectively. It is then that we realize fully what war is.

American casualty lists up to this time are small. Their total is less than five thousand. We have not yet begun to fight. All our time has been spent since our entry in the war in preparing to fight and in preparing to turn out supplies. We have not yet begun to turn out the supplies which will be needed before the war ends. Production for many arms of the service has been devoted almost exclusively to practice purposes. While it is true that we have not shipped abroad a hundred airplanes, we have produced a great many for the instruction of our aviators. Our aviation force at the beginning was formed of men absolutely unacquainted with air travel, much less air fighting. To instruct these aviators required first a large amount of time in technical instruction not closely associated with actual flights. As the latter branch of the work is taken up there is more or less destruction of airplanes; a greenhorn cannot be expected to run a new machine perfectly the first or even the second time. The life of an airplane is not like the life of the Appian Way, which after the lapse of twenty-two centuries is still in use in places. When it is considered that we are training an army of thousands of aviators the production of airplanes for their use alone necessarily must be large. So, also, the production of munitions and supplies must be kept up in order to freshen and replace supplies previously turned out; there can be no stop in the industrial lines until war has ceased. Occasionally there is a tendency to slacken speed in production of this character. After our casualty lists begin to show serious inroads of the war every American will not only resume the former speed but will increase it. It is only when the casualty lists strike home that we forget nonsensical squabbles and devote our undivided time and energy to the work before us. It is at that time, also, we discover we have not yet made any sacrifices worth speaking of, and we settle down with grim earnestness to win the war.

CATS MUST BE GOOD.

Or the Policemen May "Humanely Destroy" Them.

Cats with a fondness for birds had better beware. Governor Whitman has set his hand and seal to a new law dooming all bird-killing pussies.

"Any person over the age of twenty-one years," reads the law, "who is the holder of a valid hunting and trapping license, may, and it shall be the duty of a game protector or other peace officer to, humanely destroy a cat at large found hunting or killing any bird protected by law or with a dead bird of any species protected by law in its possession; and no action for damages shall be maintained for such killing."

Cat bills of many varieties have, in the past, been presented to different state legislatures. Some have called for bells on cats, some for collars and licenses, but the present law is the first to be passed in any state. Its promoters have framed it with the idea of attacking, not the well fed and cared for house pet, but the wandering, hunting or homeless cat, which has become so great a menace to our wild bird life.

Figures gathered by the conservation commission indicate that common cats cause more destruction among insectivorous and game birds than any other agency. The present law is intended to encourage all persons, who are sufficiently responsible to carry a gun, to aid in checking the numbers of bird-hunting and bird killing cats.

The new law goes into effect immediately.

SPY PAYMASTER UNDER ARREST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—Germany's spy "paymaster" in the United States has been arrested by Secret Service agents, it was learnd by the International News Service this afternoon. He was taken into custody somewhere on Long Island. Government officials refused to divulge his name but he is declared to be a lieutenant commander in the German army.

The German is understood to have directed all operations of German agents in this country following the departure of Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador. It was stated that he was plentifully supplied with money and that he had charge of all disbursements. His arrest is reported to have resulted from information obtained at the time of the arrest of two women and two men here recently in connection with alien enemy activities.

PALENTOWN.

Palentown, May 1.—Joseph Wynkoop was taken with a stroke of paralysis last Saturday night. This is the second one he has had. At this time he remains about the same. He is attended by Dr. Fuller.

Mrs. Elting Beesmer and daughter, Mae, spent a few hours with her father in this place on Sunday.

Little Olive Shurter of Samsonville is visiting her grandmother for a few days, Mrs Homer Traver.

Arthur Ignatius from New York has been spending a few days at the Level Laide Farm and soon expects to make his home in Palentown.

Frank Beesmer and friend, Harvey, spent Saturday night at Homer Traver's and returned Monday to his home in Rhinebeck. Mr. Beesmer came for his car which has been repaired by Homer Traver & Son.

Ira Bell and mother have been ill but are better at this time.

Dr. Fuller was in this place Sunday to see his patients.

John Traver motored to Kingston Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barringer and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barringer to see their mother, who has undergone an operation. We are glad to hear she is some better.

Mrs. Edward Secor from Ashokan is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. William Dymond.

Montcena Gray, road foreman, has his men working the roads in this neighborhood. Mr. Gray gives good satisfaction wherever he works the roads and seems to understand just how it should be done.

John Traver and mother were callers on Mrs. Arch. Depuy of Accord last Thursday; also called on Mrs. Morgan McCullough of the same place.

The little boy of Aaron Miller is now on the gain. He is attended by Dr. Fuller of Kerhonkson.

Jerry Keator has sold his yoke of oxen to Mr. Lasher of Woodstock.

Holland Has Not Yielded.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—The stock market made a substantial response to the favorable news and to the good showing of the U. S. Steel Corporation for its March business published last night at the opening today, there being general advances ranging from fractions to over one point in the active issues. There was a scramble to buy Steel Common as soon as business commenced, the opening sales of that stock being 6,000 shares all the way from 95½ to 96, a gain of 1¾. Afterwards the trading settled down with the price reacting to 95⅜, later rallying to 95⅝. Baldwin Locomotive opened ¾ up at 79, but lost most of this gain in the next few minutes, and American Car and Foundry, after advancing ¾ to 77¼, reacted to 76⅝. Distillers made a gain of 1⅛ to 52⅛, from which it reacted to 51¾. Republic Iron and Steel advanced one point to 81¼. Reading rose ½ to 79⅛. Inspiration Copper made a gain of ⅜ to 52. Liberty Bonds were in good demand, the 3½'s selling at 99.06 while the 4's sold at 96.80.

There were further advances in many of the leading issues after the first fifteen minutes but later in the forenoon the tone became irregular. Marine Preferred dropped 1½ to 85, while Atlantic Gulf and West Indies fell over one point to 105. Steel Common after selling up to 96⅛, reacted to 95½, and then moved up to 95⅞. Reading held steady around 79. Baldwin reacted nearly one point to 79¼. There was active trading in Liberty Bonds, with large amounts of the second 4's traded in from 96.80 to 96.74. The 3½'s sold around 99.06.

The market was extremely dull until mid-afternoon when railroad stocks became active and strong, union Pacific moving up 1½ to 119⅝, while gains of over one point were made in Reading, Southern Pacific and New York Central. Steel Common advanced to 95⅞, and Baldwin Locomotive to 79¾. Distillers Securities after selling down 2 points to 49¾, rallied to 50½.

The market closed strong today. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

Stationery Store Reopened.

Lawrence A. Conroy has leased the store formerly occupied by Martin Ward as a stationery store at No. 102 Broadway, opposite the Orpheum Theatre, and will continue the business. Mr. Ward retired from business some time ago. Mr. Conroy will handle a full line of newspapers, including The Freeman, confectionery and cigars and other articles found in a stationery store. Mr. Conroy resumed business today. He and his family will occupy the apartments above the store. His many friends wish him success in his venture.

Vassar Instructor Arrested.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—Miss Agathe Wilhelmina Richrath, formerly instructor of German at Vassar College, is held here today for examination by government authorities who are investgating her status as an enemy alien. Active sympathy for Germany was the charge through which Miss Richrath was arrested at Vassar, and though no admission has been made by federal officials, it is said she will be sent to an internment camp.

German Rulers to Confer.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Zurich, May 1.—Emperor Charles of Austria, his military staff, Baron Burian, the Austrian foreign minister, and his diplomatic staff, are to confer with the Kaiser at German headquarters, it was learned today. Both Berlin and Vienna attach great importance to the conference and it is reported that it will relate to solutions of the Ukrainian and Balkan situations.

Navigation Notes.

An old Murray line barge, J. S. Keeler, which sunk some time ago and was recently raised and pumped out, was towed to the mouth of the Rondout creek from New York by the tug Moran, where it was met by the Rob and towed to Hiltebrant's shipyard at South Rondout for repairs.

Inspectors Keller and Gaul inspected the steamer Albany, of the Hudson River Day Line, today. The Albany and the Mary Powell have been berthed for the winter at the Sunflower dock in the creek.

Expert in Home Dressmaking.

More women than usual are interested during these war-times in home dressmaking, therefore the arrival in Kingston today of Miss Fry, an expert from the Butterick Pattern offices, will be welcomed by any who may desire free advice or counsel on matters pertaining to home sewing. During her stay in Kingston, Miss Fry may be found at the pattern department of the Van Wagenen store on Wall street.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. P. J. White was pleasantly surprised at her home, No. 128 Broadway, Tuesday evening by a few of her friends. The evening was delightfully spent. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glennon, Mr. and Mrs. William Brophy and Mrs. Gertrude Glennon.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R. which will be held on Thursday afternoon at the Chapter House at 3 o'clock, will be an important one and all members are urged to be present. The regular meeting will be preceded by the local board meeting at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Ogden Winne and Miss Kate Westbrook have arranged a very interesting program. There will be music and Dr. Nash of Hurley will give one of his fine talks. Mrs. Hyman Roosa and Mrs. Robert Rodie will be the hostesses. During the afternoon the Chapter House will be closed to the Red Cross workers, as usual.

Breaking Up the Eggs.

A young man who boards uptown was made a present of three fresh eggs and he took these home in a bag which he put in his coat pocket. When he got in his room he forgot about the eggs and flung his coat over a chair. A little later he went downstairs, after having putting on his coat, and he told the boarding house mistress that he had brought home three fresh eggs which he would like to have fried. Reaching in his pocket to get the bag of eggs, he found the bag all right, but the eggs were very much smashed, and needless to say, the eggs did not get fried.

Where is Spring?

Lost, strayed or stolen, spring; and Kingstonians will be glad when the elusive springtime comes for a long stay. The weather man has handed out an occasional spring day since spring was officially ushered in by the almanac, and some more would be appreciated.

Mark of the Hun on a French Chateau

French Official Photograph.

Prince Eitel Friedrich passed this way. The mark of Germany is on the spot. These ruins were once a beautiful French chateau. It was unharmed when the Germans captured the place.

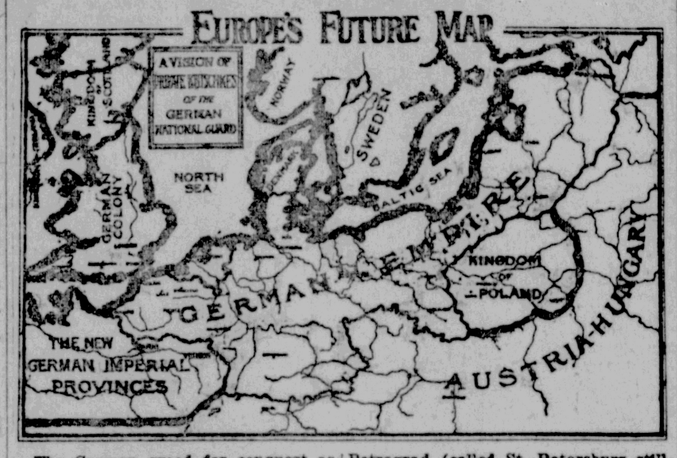
Indeed, Prince Eitel considered it handsome enough to be used as his own headquarters. But a day came, finally, when the Germans were forced to retreat, and before he left, Eitel gave orders that the chateau should be destroyed.

It was not of any military importance. That didn't make any difference to Eitel. He simply wished to show his hate against the French. He wanted to smash the chateau, as a child in a rage might smash a toy.

The world is paying dearly for these rages of the imperial children of Germany. The Kaiser has many sons to carry on his work in the world, if Germany is not defeated.

But Germany can be defeated and will be defeated, if America puts all its available strength into the struggle. The battle will be fought in France, but some of the work of preparation must be done here.

Everybody can have at least a little share in the effort, for everybody can buy a bond in the Third Liberty Loan, which will aid the American army in its task of making the world safe from the rage of the Kaiser and his sons.



The German greed for conquest as well as the Germans' persistence in judging others by themselves has a graphic illustration in the foregoing map which is being widely circulated in the land of our enemies.

It will be noted that the conception of a Europe completely engulfed by Germany is credited to a private of the Landwehr, or National Guard, named Kutschke. This may be taken as a camouflage for the official sanction which permits its circulation in the hope that it will increase by incitement the whole covetous and acquisitive nature of the German will-to-war.

According to Artist Rumann, the German empire, at the end of the war, will take in Belgium and all that part of northern France now occupied by the German army, as well as those Baltic provinces of Russia which are now garrisoned by German troops, and Petrograd (called St. Petersburg still by our enemies). The remainder of France will be known as "Deutschen Reichslande," or German provinces. England will be a "German protectorate," with autonomy preserved apparently for Scotland, Ireland and Wales. Austria-Hungary will include all that part of Russia east of the Baltic provinces up to a line just south of Petrograd. The kingdom of Poland is carefully delimited on the map, but is defined as "Deutscher Bundesstaat," or German Federal State. Space alone prevents the settlement of the fate of such countries as Serbia, Italy and Finland, while for the same reason, of course, the empire of middle Europe seems woefully neglected. The neutral Scandinavian countries, Holland and Switzerland, alone remain as they are today.

Liberty Bonds will shatter this dream of criminal covetousness.

PATRIOTS OWN LIBERTY BONDS

The Liberty Loan campaign is the battle of the stay-at-homes.

Hesitate to buy a Liberty Bond and eventually you may lose your all.

At present prices for his products Liberty Bonds are the farmer's best buy.

Think it over—Liberty Bonds or maybe bondage without liberty.

American Soldiers in French Trenches

International Film Service, Inc.

American soldiers have taken over the French trenches at many points on the western front, and they are daily increasing the length of line they hold. Standing behind their sandbag parapets, they watch the German lines in front of them, ready at any minute to snipe the unwary foe who shows his head or to repel a German charge. The American sectors are very active now, and the trenches are heavily manned, for there are daily attacks on them by the Germans.

Many of these trenches are so close to the German lines that all noise of any kind is strictly prohibited. In some places the men are forbidden to speak above a whisper. A nervous foe suspects any sound in the enemy lines, and a little extra noise will bring a storm of shells from the artillery.

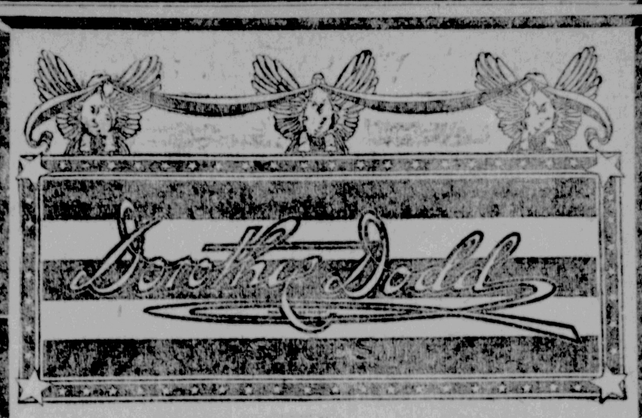
These are the men who are fighting our battles in France, and we must back them up here. They depend on us. They cannot win this war without our aid. Buy a bond of the Third Liberty Loan for the sake of our fighting men in France.

Patriotic Window Displays.

Many of Kingston's merchants are showing their patriotic spirit by giving up their window display space to the interests of Uncle Sam in his campaign to sell Liberty Bonds, thrift stamps, etc. During the last few weeks there have been some very patriotic and artistic window displays here.

Music In The Air.

There was music and then some on Wall street Tuesday afternoon. Three hurdy gurdies were turning out some of the modern song hits and also some that were used in the days when Washington crossed the Delaware. On one of the hurdy gurdies was a cage containing a parrot and Polly also seemed to be rather musically inclined.



The Difference In Shoes!

THE difference between the sort of Shoes we sell and the "Other Sort" will be perfectly apparent to any one who compares our "Good Shoes" with "Just Shoes!"

Our Better Shoes!

Our Shoes are built up to a standard and Not Down to a Price! The result is that our Shoes are more economical than uncertain Shoes.

They wear so much longer and look so much better than "Bargain Shoes," that they are a Better Investment, Dollar for Dollar, than Any Shoes which sell for less money.

The true test of Shoe value is not the First Cost, but the Final Cost—not what they cost Per Pair, but what they cost Per Year. It is upon this simple test of value that the successful growth of our shoe business is based!

BOYS' SHOES!

Boys have a right to wear out three times as many shoes as their fathers, and most boys work the concession to the limit!

While we will not say that our boys' shoes will not wear out, we will say that we have done everything in our power to make the task of wearing them out as difficult as possible.

"Each Stitch is a Thought of You" on a new Victor Record

A tender little song of soldier sentiment, effectively sung by Henry Burr, which pictures a tired, careworn, but loving little mother knitting comforts for her boy "over there."

"A Little Bit of Sunshine" is another reminder of the boys abroad and how to cheer them on their way, presented by Charles Hart with the Shannon Four. Both on one record.

The "Rookies" choirmaster sings "Send Me a Curl"

Geoffrey O'Hara, musical director of one of Uncle Sam's Training Camps, knows what soldiers want. He shows it in this song he composed. An unusually attractive march song that goes with an irresistible swing.

Louis James with the Shannon Four sings a victory song in anticipation—

"All Aboard for Home Sweet Home." And it has some delightfully blended harmonies.

CORONER'S INQUEST FINISHED TUESDAY

Held to Fix the Responsibility for the Broadway Crossing Accident—Witnesses Agreed on Some Points—Decision to Be Filed Later.

The inquest held by Coroner Earnest A. Kelly to place the responsibility for the accident of March 4 on the Broadway crossing when the early morning West Shore newspaper train crashed into a Kingston city trolley car resulting in the death of three men and injuring fifteen, was finished Tuesday afternoon. The coroner will file his decision later.

Only three witnesses were called Tuesday afternoon and practically no testimony of definite value was brought out. The testimony was relative to the movement of freight cars in the West Shore yard the morning of the accident.

Tuesday's testimony brought out more corroborative evidence that there were cars in the yard that morning, but the railroad men who testified were not sure whether the cars were moved before or after the accident.

Those called to testify were James Cahill, day switchman; Cornelius Ryan, night switchman, Louis Van Gravereese, in charge of the switch engine.

The coroner's verdict will be awaited with much interest. It is said that a number of suits are pending, some against the trolley road and some against the railroad.

Over fifty witnesses testified during the inquest, and most of the testimony seemed to agree on the following points: that the gates were either up or were lowered when the trolley was practically on the railroad tracks; that the train was running fast and the trolley not going more than ten miles an hour; and that no bell or whistle signal was given by the train.

MARINE INSURANCE RATES REDUCED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 1.—The effectiveness of German U boats against American cargo ships has been so greatly reduced that a new reduction in marine insurance rates will be announced by the war risk insurance bureau late this afternoon.

"The U boats simply are not getting the ships," William A. Delanoy, director of the war risk insurance bureau, told the house interstate and foreign commerce committee today. "That is the fact, and it reflects an enormous amount of credit on the wonderful convoy system perfected by the navy department."

Since the formation of the war risk insurance bureau, Delanoy said, it had made $17,000,000 net profits. This had been possible in the face of a constant reduction in marine insurance rates. Starting at 6½ per cent the rate has now been reduced to 3 per cent and it was learned is slated for still further reduction.

Delanoy spoke in favor of amendments to the war risk insurance act which would permit the insurance of the shipping of friendly neutrals, as well as that of the United States, and its co-belligerents. This was necessary, he said, because American insurance companies, deprived of the assistance formerly given by the German companies operating in the United States, are not able to take care of the business.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Frank M. Cronk of this city has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court. The testator gives the life use of his estate to his wife, Elizabeth Cronk, at whose death the remainder is directed to be divided among their children, Frank, Henry C. and Seth E. Cronk. Mrs. Cronk is appointed executrix. The will was executed March 22, 1918, and witnessed by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier and former City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr. The value of the estate is $4,000 personal property. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier appeared for the executrix.

The will of Anna Goodgion of the town of Gardiner was admitted to probate. The testatrix gives her estate to her daughter, Mabel G. Cornish, who is appointed executrix. The will was executed April 17, 1915, and witnessed by Hector Sears and Carrie W. Sears. The value of the estate is $1,750 personal property. Hector Sears appeared for the executrix.

Letters of administration on the estate of Elias Mulford of the town of Saugerties, were issued to his daughter, Carrie J. Birdsall of Newark, N. J. The value of the real is $12,000 and the personal property amounts to $35,000. Cantline & Dominick of Newburgh, appeared for the administratrix.

Letters of administration on the estate of Ernest A. Mann of the town of Saugerties were issued to Belle Mann. The value of the estate is $300 personal property. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier appeared for the administratrix.

Silent Cops Have Quiet Night.

FRENCH SOLDIERS WORK RECONQUERED LAND

When Out of Trenches They Put Fertile Fields of Aisne Under Cultivation.

At the beginning of the war agriculture suffered greatly in France because the man power was taken for the army. The women and children and old men were the only ones left to work the land. As the war progressed it became evident that there had to be more men for the land, and various measures were put before the chamber of deputies to supply men for the land, but all of them came down in the final analysis to taking men away from the army.

The solution seems to have been reached at last in the method taken for putting the reconquered districts once more under cultivation. It is done by the soldiers. As soon as the land is cleared of the Germans it is turned back to the owners or to the soldiers who have been longest in service. In most cases it is the soldiers, who thus go back in their time away from the front line to the land they love.

No soldier spends all his time in the first line. In the average not more than 25 per cent of the time is spent in the first line and a trifle more in support. Approximately 40 per cent of a soldier's time is passed in the reserve. This part of his days the soldier of long service can now put in on the land, cultivating the territory reconquered from the Germans, remaking the fertile fields of France.

It is with such men as these the American people are asked to become fellow defenders of freedom, not only for France, but for the world through their support of the coming Third Liberty Loan.

THE UNCONQUERABLE SPIRIT.

French First Aid Survivors Show It After Hun Attack.

When the French captured Maurepas in the great Somme offensive of 1916 there was a first aid hospital right up in the front lines. The complement was 54 men—doctors, stretcher bearers, orderlies and ambulance drivers. A big German counter bombardment tried to stop the attack on Maurepas, and one German shell landed in the first aid post. All but 17 of the hospital post were killed or wounded.

When the fight was over they were ordered back to the rear with the two ambulances that remained to them. Arrived in Amiens, all were given leave, but they refused to take it.

"We don't want leave," they said. "We want to be brought up to strength again and go back to the front."

That is the way with Americans in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. The American with the fighting spirit does not buy a bond and think he has done his duty. He gets more money and goes back to buy another.

Roller Skating Fad.

The roller skating craze seems to have died out here as suddenly as it sprang up. Up to a few days ago pedestrians had to watch their step very carefully on some of the uptown streets to prevent being knocked over by a small army of roller skaters, but during the last few days the number of skaters had decreased.

CHURCH CAN HELP FOOD CONSERVATION

The church supper can help food conservation. It can supply a meal to one hundred, two hundred, or more persons which will substitute the foods which are plenty for the foods that are neded abroad. And that in itself is quite an item.

But that is not all the church supper can do. It can unobtrusively act as a demonstration center for the food administration. It can boost potatoes and other local vegetables, play up pinto beans, show the people how good cornmeal, oatmeal and barley really are. The church supper, like the college boy, has possibilities.

For example there is the home-grown supper. That depends on your community. Do you have maple trees? Do the farmers grow corn which is milled near by? Then your problem is settled excepting for the crowds which will flock to be fed on hot corn cakes and maple syrup.

If you are one of those envied Middle Western barley states, you will have enough on your hands. For barley is probably the most adaptable wheat saver that ever got into society.

Other states have potato flour, sweet potato flour, feterita flour, corn flour, rice flour, peanut meal, cassava flour, taro flour, banana flour, kaffir flour, milo flour, soy bean meal. Whatever wheat substitute you have avilable, that is the thing to emphasize.

A church supper without any bread would be a distinct novelty. And it can well be done by using hominy or rice instead, or by doubling the potato servings.

An absolutely wheatless supper would be a real accomplishment. Prizes might be offered to the women cooking the supper, for the best wheatless and ryeless quick bread, the best wheatless and ryeless cake, the best pudding from the new products already mentioned.

Cornmeal and oatmeal are two of the easiest wheat substitutes with which to get results. Corn meal and oatmeal biscuits have already been graded with a "high ex" by the cooks of the country. Breads, puddings, cakes and pies made from these should not be allowed to compete for prizes with those made with the other flours with which we are less familiar.

Our consumption of fats and sugar should be drastically cut down. The church supper can show people how to use the other sweets, such as molasses, honey, corn syrup, maple sugar and maple syrup in cakes and desserts. It can set the example of eliminating food fried in deep fat, of serving butter in smaller quantities and seeing that there is no waste.

The church supper might even teach some food lessons by serving dishes with little tags showing the number of calories furnished by each serving and the classification according to the "five food groups."

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

2255.—A Pretty, Seasonable Model for Mother's Girl.

This style is nice for cashmere, gabardine, repp, voile, plaid or checked suiting, and also for all wash fabrics. The guimpe may be of crepe, lawn or batiste. The dress closes at the left side of the front, and is worn over the guimpe.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 6 requires 1¼ yard for the guimpe, and 3¾ yards for the dress, of 27-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10c in silver or stamps for our Up-to-Date Spring and Summer, 1918, Catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking; also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Make This Clean-Up Week.

With the first day of May ushered in today it would not be a bad idea for the residents of Kingston to get busy and make the first week of the month a clean-up week. All over the city gardens are being spaded up and in many instances lettuce and other seed have been planted. Along with the necessary garden work the backyards and front yards should also be cleaned of the winter's accumulation of dirt.

PRIVATE ALCON IS IN FRANCE

PRIVATE BERNARD ALCON.

Abram Alcon of the firm of Alcon Brothers, shoe dealers on the Strand, has received an interesting letter from his son, Private Bernard Alcon, whose address now is "3rd Company, 2nd M. M. Regiment, A. E. F." which denotes the fact that Private Alcon is "somewhere in France." He writes that he has been moved around so much that he did not get time to write sooner, but now he is in a permanet camp, and will have more time to himself. He says that he is enjoying the country because he is seeing things that cannot be seen in the states. So far he has not done a bit of work, but expects to known in a week or so what he is to do. The food they are getting is good, and they get plenty of it. The letter is written on Y. M. C. A. stationery and is dated March 23, and passed by the censor.

GILLETTE EXPLAINS NEW SCHOOL LAW

New York State Education Department, Second Supervisory District, Ulster Co., Port Ewen, N. Y.
Telephone 182-R—Kingston.
John Union Gillette, District Superintendent of Schools.
April 30, 1918.

Editor Kingston Freeman:

There seems to be considerable uncertainty about the date of holding schools meetings. So many inquiries have come by mail recently regarding the holding of annual school meetings that it is almost impossible to answer all the questions which are being asked concerning such meetings, method of precedure, etc.

Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to state to the legal voters, and others interested in education, in the second supervisory district of Ulster county, comprising the towns of Esopus, Gardiner, Lloyd, Marlborough, Plattekill, New Paltz and Shawangunk that a bill introduced in the recent session of the Legislature by the Honorable Louis M. Martin of Oneida county, repealing the law enacted by the Legislature of 1917 known as the "Township Law" passed both branches of the Legislature, was signed by the Governor April 13th, and thus became the laws of 1918.

This law provides that annual school meetings shall be held in school districts under the operation of the township law in June 1918, no day being fixed in the law. The law authorizes the district superintendent to call meetings in each school district some day in June.

In order that officers may be chosen, appropriations voted, and arrangements may be made to open the schools promptly in September as the law requires, I will call school meetings in all districts which were under the operation of the township law Tuesday evening, June 4, at 7:30. Notices of such meetings will be posted at least five days before June 4, 1918, as provided by law. The usual method of procedure in conducting school meetings will be observed as far as possible.

Therefore, under the law as set forth in the Martin bill there will be no school meetings in those school districts operating under the township law in the month of May, 1918.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN U. GILLETTE.

New Telephone Tariff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, May 1.—The New York Telephone Company has filed with the Public Service Commission Second District, changes in its local and joint toll tariffs, effective on May 21, and affecting a few localities in nearly every county with the exception of New York city. Several hundred changes are made in the new tariff sheets and in many instances there is a reduction in the toll charge between points. The increase in rates, as a rule, do not exceed 5 cents and are occasioned principally by a transfer of localities affected from special rate sheets to block rate sheets. Rates changeds are in rural communities and points involved are those in which the toll calls are few. The changes do not affect toll rates from the larger cities of the state, except in a few instances.

In Police Court.

Harry Shurter and Ernest Durham, two young men, were arrested at midnight Tuesday by Special Officer DeGraff on a charge of fighting on the public streets. This morning both young men pleaded not guilty and Judge Schirick adjourned the hearing until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The alleged fight took place on Wall street, near John.

Joseph McAvoy, a one-legged man who walked with the aid of crutches, was arrested this morning by Officer Hess on a charge of panhandling on Broadway, near the West Shore station. He was given an hour to get out of town. McAvoy has been here

STOP WASTE IN DAIRY PRODUCTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, May 1.—Drink more milk; eat more cheese.

That is the cry of farmers of New York state. It must be answered. There is an abundance of dairy products practically going to waste. The waste must stop.

Farming organizations throughout the state stand solidly behind the campaign being waged by the State Department of Farms and Markets for increased consumption of daily products. The Dairymen's League, the New York State Grange, the various farm bureau organizations and the State Dairymen's Association are actively lined up in the drive for greater use of milk.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson today declared that there is a big surplus of milk products not only in New York state but in other states.

"It must be emphasized," he said, "that these products may be consumed in place of wheat, beef and corn which are needed by our own and the armies of our allies in France."

He declared that the agricultural organizations behind the movement urge strongly the food value of milk and cheese and point out the value of substitution for other foodstuffs. Some of these farmers' organizations, especially the Dairymen's League, are working out plans which will present to the public forcibly demonstrations of the relative food values. Methods of preparing dishes with milk and milk products are to be called to the attention of the consumer in various ways in the campaign already inaugurated.

Farmers are urging support of the milk and dairy farm demonstration to be held in the Grand Central Palace, New York city, the week of May 20. The Dairymen's League has appropriated $10,000 of its funds to be used for exhibit purposes. A model dairy will be installed and the finest Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys and Ayrshires will be milked morning and evening. A pasteurization plant will be in operation. Butter and cheese manufacture will be demonstrated with all of the latest and most sanitary appliances.

Governor Whitman recently signed a bill providing for an appropriation for an exhibit by the state and the governor has accepted an invitation to open the demonstration with an address.

The dairy industry in New York state is an important one. Milk produced annually is valued at $250,000,000 and the value of the cattle in the state is estimated at $300,000,000. It is also estimated that at least 700,000 persons are engaged in the various branches of the industry within the state.

MEASLES ALARM BOARD OF HEALTH

State Department of Health Send Dr. Laidlaw to Kingston—Over Thirty Cases Reported in Past Three Days.

So alarming has become the outbreak of measles in Kingston that the state board of health at Albany has sent Dr Laidlaw to Kington to investigate conditions and he with Dr. Van Hoevenberg, the school physician, were busy this morning at the board of health office at the city hall looking up the cases that had been reported.

It was stated that in the past three days over thirty cases had been reported, and the morning mail brought reports of two additional cases. At Ulster Academy alone over forty cases of the disease have been reported among the pupils.

If the epidemic is not checked it is quite likely that the board of health may take some acton toward closing the schools. The board meets May 14, and unless the situation is better than it is now it is likely that some action will be taken at that meeting.

MONTOMA.

Montoma, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. George Neher of Woodstock spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Neher.

Irving Parker and daughters, Beulah and Pearl, of Kingston, spent the week end at C. H. B. Gray's.

The Rev. Mr. Miller of Albany gave a very interesting lecture on the work of the Civic League in the Glenford M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon.

The annual school meeting of District No. 7 will be held in the school house on Tuesday, May 7, at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bonesteel of Shady spent one day last week with their daughter, Mrs. Edward Stoutenberg.

HELPING THE BOYS WHEN THEY GO AWAY

The National Army boys who left town on Tuesday morning for Camp Dix, N. J., were presented with a large basket of fruit by Ralph Mann, the fruit and bicycle supply dealer of East Strand. Beginning with the first detail which left Kingston on September 7th of last year, Mr. Mann has presented a large basket of fruit to the boys of each contingent that has left Kingston for National Army service. The boys have appreciated Mr. Mann's remembrance and have enjoyed the fruit while en route to their cantonments.

The boys' luggage was conveyed from the headquarters of the local exemption boards to the West Shore station by one of the auto delivery trucks of Stock & Cordts. The work of handling the luggage at the offices of the local boards and placing it safely aboard the train and also distributing it to the owners when they had entrained has been undertaken by Fire Commissioner Charles Lahl as each contingent has left Kingston and he again performed that service on Tuesday.

20TH REUNION OF COMPANY M VETS.

The twentieth anniversary of the departure of Company M, National Guard, from Kingston to take part in the Spanish-American war, will be celebrated Thursday evening by a banquet at Cuneo's Inn at Lake Katrine.

Of the 106 men who left Kingston on May 2, 1898, fifty-three are expected to be present at Thursday's reunion. Among them will be Captain Robert F. Tompkins of New York city, who commanded the company, and ex-Sheriff Decker of Middletown, who was a lieutenant of Company I. Captain Tompkins will reach Kingston during the afternoon.

The company will leave the armory at 6 o'clock and after a short parade through town will go directly to Lake Katrine, where dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

EXEMPT FIREMEN TO HOLD 29TH REUNION

The Exempt Firemen's Association will hold its regular meeting and banquet on Thursday evening at 8:45 o'clock at the Central Fire Station.

This will be the twenty-ninth annual reunion of the old Vamps who always look forward to a good time on these occasions.

Of the thirty-eight charter members, only nine of the old boys are [illegible] Caslis, George W. Newkirk, S. G. Canfield, Frank H. Griffiths, William B. Scott, George Messinger, Charles Riddick and Henry Wilmott.

The association is in a flourishing condition. There are now eighty members on the roll, which includes some of the best known and bravest of the fire fighters of the old volunteer system.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 1.—Mrs. M. Kelsch and daughter, Hilda, who have been spending a week with Mrs. Frank Dorr on Stout avenue, have returned to their home in Kingston.

Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in their rooms in Spinneweber's Hall on Broadway.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held Thursday afternoon at home of Mrs. George Fairbrother on Green street at 3 o'clock. All members of the society are requested to be present.

Miss Anna Bruck of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. Frank Dorr on Stout avenue.

The treasurer of the Reformed Church gave his annual report Sunday evening, showing a nice balance on hand despite of the fact they have been without a pastor since last November.

The citizens of Port Ewen and vicinity will be given the opportunity of tripping the light fantastic at the Pythian Hall tonight when the Alumni hold their patriotic dance. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of a service flag for the former students of School No. 13, who have entered the service, and also for the Red Cross Aid. The people of Port Ewen have responded liberally so far, but why not make it unanimous? If you do not dance, come just the same and your presence will be greatly appreciated. The Alumni Association has invited Superintendent of Schools John F. Gilleue, under whose direction this association was organized, to present during the evening the service flag to the school which will be accepted on behalf of the school by Principal Mead Davis. The committee in charge have obtained Miller's orchestra for the occasion. Members of the Alumni are requested to wear the red, white and blue colors. Dancing begins at 8 o'clock. Admission—Ladies, 15 cents; gents, 25 cents. Everybody welcome.

A meeting of the consistory of the Reformed Church will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room.

The Rev. Lemuel Appledorne will begin his pastorate in his new charge in the Reformed Church Sunday, May 19. Mr. Appledorne comes highly recommended and those who heard him as a candidate were very favorably impressed.

Mrs. Donald Decker and son, Donald, Jr., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sleight in Wallkill, have returned to their home on Broadway after enjoying a most delightful visit.

Charles Barringer of Kingston is laying the foundation for the house of Solomon Cole on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Drake on Green street on Tuesday.

CLINTONDALE.

SPY PAYMASTER UNDER ARREST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—Germany's spy "paymaster" in the United States has been arrested by Secret Service agents, it was learned by the International News Service this afternoon. He was taken into custody somewhere on Long Island. Government officials refused to divulge his name but he is declared to be a lieutenant commander in the German army.

The German is understood to have directed all operations of German agents in this country following the departure of Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador. It was stated that he was plentifully supplied with money and that he had charge of all disbursements. His arrest is reported to have resulted from information obtained at the time of the arrest of two women and two men here recently in connection with alien enemy activities.

Ira Bell and mother have been ill but are better at this time.

Dr. Fuller was in this place Sunday to see his patients.

John Traver motored to Kingston Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barringer and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barringer to see their mother, who has undergone an operation. We are glad to hear she is some better.

[illegible] is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. William D'mond.

Monteena Gray, road foreman, has his men working the roads in this neighborhood. Mr. Gray gives good satisfaction wherever he works the roads and seems to understand just how it should be done.

John Traver and mother were callers on Mrs. Arch Depuy of Accord last Thursday, also called on Mrs. Morgan McCullough of the same place.

The little boy of Aaron Miller is now on the gain. He is attended by Dr. Fuller of Kerhonkson.

Jerry Keator has sold his yoke of oxen to Mr. Lasher of Woodstock.

Holland Has Not Yielded.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 1.—The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph at The Hague states that he is reliably informed that reports that Holland has yielded to Germany in the transportation dispute are untrue. Optimistic rumors that have been current are unjustified, he added, but the situation is no worse.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—The stock market made a substantial response to the favorable news and to the good showing of the U. S. Steel Corporation for its March business published last night at the opening today, there being general advances ranging from fractions to over one point in the active issues. There was a scramble to buy Steel Common as soon as business commenced, the opening sales of that stock being 6,000 shares all the way from 95½ to 96, a gain of 1¾. Afterwards the trading settled down with the price reacting to 95¼, later rallying to 95⅞. Baldwin Locomotive opened ¾ up at 79 but lost most of this gain in the next few minutes, and American Car and Foundry, after advancing ¾ to 77¼, reacted to 76⅝. Distillers made a gain of 1⅛ to 52⅛, from which it reacted to 51¾. Republic Iron and Steel advanced one point to 81¼. Reading rose ½ to 79⅛. Inspiration Copper made a gain of ⅝ to 52. Liberty Bonds were in good demand, the 3½'s selling at 98.95 while the 4's sold at 96.20.

There were further advances in many of the leading issues after the first fifteen minutes but later in the forenoon the tone became irregular. Marine Preferred dropped 1½ to 85, while Atlantic Gulf and West Indies fell over one point to 105. Steel Common after selling up to 96⅛ reacted to 95½, and then moved up to 95⅞. Reading held steady around 79. Baldwin reacted nearly one point to 79¼. There was active trading in Liberty Bonds with large amounts of the second 4's traded in from 96.30 to 96.74. The 3½'s sold around 98.98.

The market was extremely dull until mid-afternoon when railroad stocks became active and strong, Union Pacific moving up 1½ to 119⅝, while gains of over one point were made in Reading, Southern Pacific and New York Central. Steel Common advanced to 95⅞ and Baldwin Locomotive to 79⅜. Distillers Securities after selling down 2 points to 49⅞, rallied to 50½.

The market closed strong today. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

Stationery Store Reopened.

Lawrence A. Conroy has leased the store formerly occupied by Martin Ward as a stationery store at No. 162 Broadway, opposite the Orpheum Theatre, and will continue the business. Mr. Ward retired from business some time ago. Mr. Conroy will handle a full line of newspapers, including The Freeman, confectionery and cigars and other articles found in a stationery store. Mr. Conroy resumed business today. He and his family will occupy the apartments above the store. His many friends wish him success in his venture.

Vassar Instructor Arrested.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 1.—Miss Agathe Wilhelmina Richrath, formerly instructor of German at Vassar College, is held here today for examination by government authorities who are investigating her status as an enemy alien. Active sympathy for Germany was the charge through which Miss Richrath was arrested at Vassar, and though no admission has been made by federal officials, it is said she will be sent to an internment camp.

German Rulers to Confer.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Zurich, May 1.—Emperor Charles of Austria, his military staff, Baron Burian, the Austrian foreign minister, and his diplomatic staff, are to confer with the Kaiser at German headquarters, it was learned today. Both Berlin and Vienna attach great importance to the conference and it is reported that it will relate to solutions of the Ukrainian and Balkan situations.

Navigation Notes.

An old Murray line barge, J. S. Keeler, which sunk some time ago and was recently raised and pumped out, was towed to the mouth of the Rondout creek from New York by the tug Moran, where it was met by the Rob and towed to Hiltebrant's shipyard at South Rondout for repairs.

Inspectors Keller and Gaul inspected the steamer Albany, of the Hudson River Day Line, today. The Albany and the Mary Powell have been berthed for the winter at the Sunflower dock in the creek.

Expert in Home Dressmaking.

More women than usual are interested during these war-times in home dressmaking, therefore the arrival in Kingston today of Miss Fry, an expert from the Butterick Pattern offices, will be welcomed by any who may desire free advice or counsel on matters pertaining to home sewing. During her stay in Kingston, Miss Fry may be found at the pattern department of the Van Wagenen store on Wall street.

Many Truants Reported.

With warmer weather more children are being reported as playing hookey from school. This morning two young girls were summoned to appear before Judge Schirick to explain why they did not attend school. Two boys have also been warned that they must attend the required number of days.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. P. J. White was pleasantly surprised at her home, No. 128 Broadway, Tuesday evening by a few of her friends. The evening was delightfully spent. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glennon, Mr. and Mrs. William Brophy and Mrs. Gertrude Glennon.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R. which will be held on Thursday afternoon at the Chapter House at 3 o'clock, will be an important one and all members are urged to be present. The regular meeting will be preceded by the local board meeting at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Ogden Wynne and Miss Kate Westbrook have arranged a very interesting program. There will be music and Dr. Nash of Hurley will give one of his fine talks. Mrs. Hyman Roosa and Mrs. Robert Rodie will be the hostesses. During the afternoon the Chapter House will be closed to the Red Cross workers, as usual.

Breaking Up the Eggs.

A young man who boards uptown was made a present of three fresh eggs and he took these home in a bag which he put in his coat pocket. When he got in his room he forgot about the eggs and flung his coat over a chair. A little later he went downstairs, after having putting on his coat, and he told the boarding house mistress that he had brought home three fresh eggs which he would like to have fried. Reaching in his pocket to get the bag of eggs, he found the bag all right, but the eggs were very much smashed, and needless to say, the eggs did not get fried.

Where is Spring?

Lost, strayed or stolen, spring; and Kingstonians will be glad when the elusive springtime comes for a long stay. The weather man has handed out an occasional spring day since spring was officially ushered in by the almanac, and some more would be appreciated.

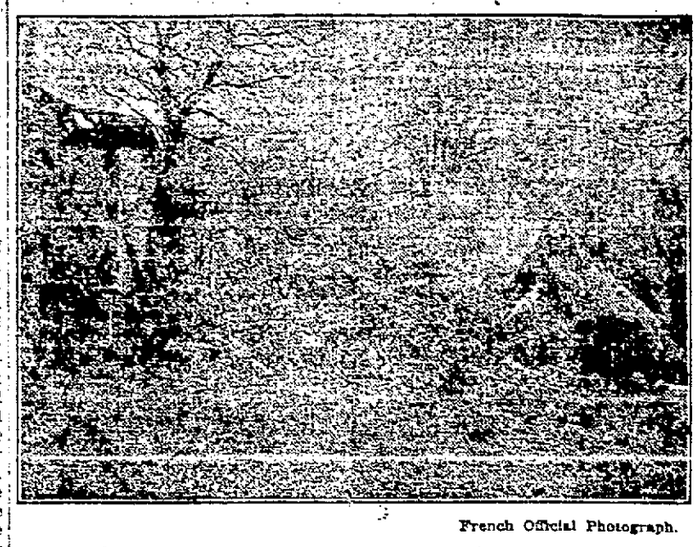
Mark of the Hun on a French Chateau



French Official Photograph.

Prince Eitel Friedrich passed this way. The mark of Germany is on the spot. These ruins were once a beautiful French chateau. It was unharmed when the Germans captured the place.

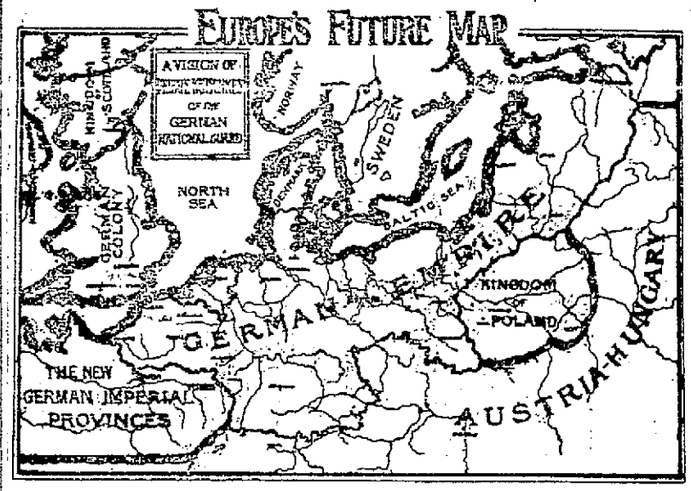
Indeed, Prince Eitel considered it handsome enough to be used as his own headquarters. But a day came, finally, when the Germans were forced to retreat, and before he left, Eitel gave orders that the chateau should be destroyed.

It was not of any military importance. That didn't make any difference to Eitel. He simply wished to show his hate against the French. He wanted to smash the chateau, as a child in a rage might smash a toy.

The world is paying dearly for these rages of the imperial children of Germany. The Kaiser has many sons to carry on his work in the world, if Germany is not defeated.

But Germany can be defeated and will be defeated, if America puts all its available strength into the struggle. The battle will be fought in France, but some of the work of preparation must be done here.

Everybody can have at least a little share in the effort, for everybody can buy a bond in the Third Liberty Loan, which will aid the American army in its task of making the world safe from the rage of the Kaiser and his sons.



The German greed for conquest as well as the Germans' persistence in judging others by themselves has a graphic illustration in the foregoing map which is being widely circulated in the land of our enemies.

It will be noted that the conception of a Europe completely engulfed by Germany is credited to a private of the Landwehr, or National Guard, named Kutschke. This may be taken as a camouflage for the official sanction which permits its circulation in the hope that it will increase by incitement the whole covetous and acquisitive nature of the German will-to-war.

According to Artist Rumann, the German empire, at the end of the war, will take in Belgium and all that part of northern France now occupied by the German army, as well as those Baltic provinces of Russia which are now garrisoned by German troops, and Petrograd (called St. Petersburg still by our enemies). The remainder of France will be known as "Deutschen Reichslande," or German provinces. England will be a "German protectorate," with autonomy preserved apparently for Scotland, Ireland and Wales. Austria-Hungary will include all that part of Russia east of the Baltic provinces up to a line just south of Petrograd. The kingdom of Poland is carefully delimited on the map, but is defined as "Deutscher Bundesstaat," or German Federal State. Space alone prevents the settlement of the fate of such countries as Serbia, Italy and Finland, while for the same reason, of course, the empire of middle Europe seems woefully neglected. The neutral Scandinavian countries, Holland and Switzerland, alone remain as they are today.

Liberty Bonds will shatter this dream of criminal covetousness.

PATRIOTS OWN LIBERTY BONDS

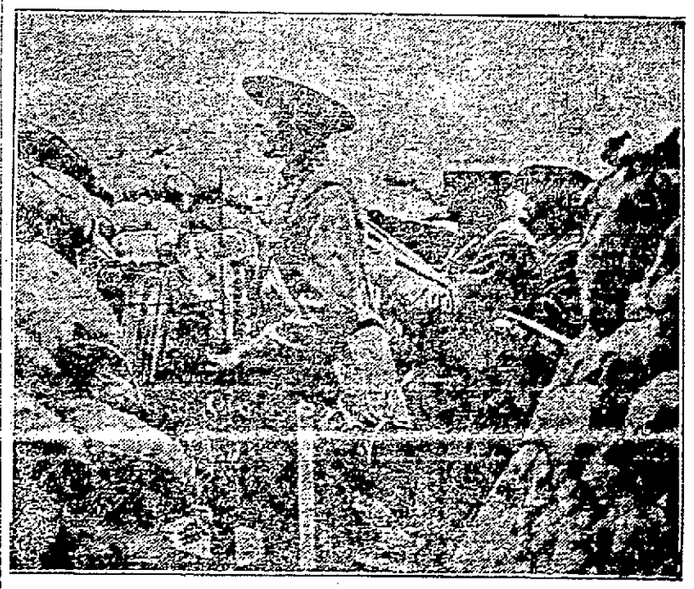
The Liberty Loan campaign is the battle of the stay-at-homes.

Hesitate to buy a Liberty Bond and eventually you may lose your all.

At present prices for his products Liberty Bonds are the farmer's best buy.

Think it over—Liberty Bonds or maybe bondage without liberty.

American Soldiers in French Trenches



International Film Service, Inc.

American soldiers have taken over the French trenches at many points on the western front, and they are daily increasing the length of line they hold. Standing behind their sandbag parapets, they watch the German lines in front of them, ready at any minute to snipe the unwary foe who shows his head or to repel a German charge. The American sectors are very active now, and the trenches are heavily manned, for there are daily attacks on them by the Germans.

Many of these trenches are so close to the German lines that all noise of any kind is strictly prohibited. In some places the men are forbidden to speak above a whisper. A nervous foe suspects any sound in the enemy lines, and a little extra noise will bring a storm of shells from the artillery.

These are the men who are fighting our battles in France, and we must back them up here. They depend on us. They cannot win this war without our aid. Buy a bond of the Third Liberty Loan for the sake of our fighting men in France.

Patriotic Window Displays.

Many of Kingston's merchants are showing their patriotic spirit by giving up their window display space to the interests of Uncle Sam in his campaign to sell Liberty Bonds, thrift stamps, etc. During the last few weeks there have been some very patriotic and artistic window displays here.

Music In The Air.

There was music and then some on Wall street Tuesday afternoon. Three hurdy gurdies were turning out some of the modern song hits and also some that were used in the days when Washington crossed the Delaware. On one of the hurdy gurdies was a cage containing a parrot and Polly also seemed to be rather musically inclined.

The Difference In Shoes!

THE difference between the sort of Shoes we sell and the "Other Sort" will be perfectly apparent to any one who compares our "Good Shoes" with "Just Shoes!"

Our Better Shoes!

Our Shoes are built up to a standard and Not Down to a Price! The result is that our Shoes are more economical than uncertain Shoes.

They wear so much longer and look so much better than "Bargain Shoes," that they are a Better Investment, Dollar for Dollar, than Any Shoes which sell for less money.

The true test of Shoe value is not the First Cost, but the Final Cost—not what they cost Per Pair, but what they cost Per Year. It is upon this simple test of value that the successful growth of our shoe business is based!

BOYS' SHOES!

Boys have a right to wear out three times as many shoes as their fathers, and most boys work the concession to the limit!

While we will not say that our boys' shoes will not wear out, we will say that we have done everything in our power to make the task of wearing them out as difficult as possible.

"Each Stitch is a Thought of You" on a new Victor Record

A tender little song of soldier sentiment, effectively sung by Henry Burr, which pictures a tired, careworn, but loving little mother knitting comforts for her boy "over there."

"A Little Bit of Sunshine" is another reminder of the boys abroad and how to cheer them on their way, presented by Charles Hart with the Shannon Four. Both on one record.

Victor double-face Record, 18453 Ten inch, 75c.

The "Rookies" choirmaster sings "Send Me a Curl"

Geoffrey O'Hara, musical director of one of Uncle Sam's Training Camps, knows what soldiers want. He shows it in this song he composed. An unusually attractive march song that goes with an irresistible swing.

Louis James with the Shannon Four sings a victory song in anticipation—

"All Aboard for Home Sweet Home." And it has some delightfully blended harmonies.

ANGLERS TRIED THEIR LUCK TODAY

Today, the first of May, marked the opening of the pickerel fishing in the Ashokan reservoir, and early this morning large numbers of local anglers left town to try their luck. The water board of New York city has issued a large number of permits and applications still continue to come in.

Trout fishing has also been exceptionally good this season and among the local anglers who met with success on their fishing trips Tuesday were Alderman George Schick, Dr Harold Rockefeller, and James Smedes, who all made good catches of the speckled beauties

CHURCH CAN HELP FOOD CONSERVATION

The church supper can help food conservation It can supply a meal to one hundred, two hundred, or more persons which will substitute the foods which are plenty for the foods that are needed abroad And that in itself is quite an item

But that is not all the church supper can do It can unobtrusively act as a demonstration center for the food administration It can boost potatoes and other local vegetables, play up pinto beans show the people how good cornmeal, oatmeal and barley really are The church supper like the college boy, has possibilities.

For example there is the home-grown supper That depends on your community. Do you have maple trees? Do the farmers grow corn which is milled near by? Then your problem is settled excepting for the crowds which will flock to be fed on hot corn cakes and maple syrup

If you are one of those envied Middle Western barley states you will have enough on your hands. For barley is probably the most adaptable wheat saver that ever got into society

Other states have potato flour, sweet potato flour, feterita flour, corn flour, rice flour, peanut meal, cassava flour, taro flour, banana flour, kaffir flour milo flour soy bean meal Whatever wheat substitute you have avilable, that is the thing to emphasize.

A church supper without any bread would be a distinct novelty. And it can well be done by using hominy or rice instead, or by doubling the potato servings.

An absolutely wheatless supper would be a real accomplishment Prizes might be offered to the women cooking the supper, for the best wheatless and ryeless quick bread, the best wheatless and ryeless cake, the best pudding from the new products already mentioned

Cornmeal and oatmeal are two of the easiest wheat substitutes with which to get results Corn meal and oatmeal biscuits have already been graded with a "high ex" by the cooks of the country. Breads, puddings, cakes and pies made from these should not be allowed to compete for prizes with those made with the other flours with which we are less familiar.

Our consumption of fats and sugar should be drastically cut down. The church supper can show people how to use the other sweets, such as molasses, honey, corn syrup, maple sugar and maple syrup in cakes and desserts. It can set the example of eliminating food fried in deep fat, of serving butter in smaller quantities and seeing that there is no waste.

The church supper might even teach some food lessons by serving dishes with little tags showing the number of calories furnished by each serving and the classification according to the "five food groups."

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

2255.—A Pretty, Seasonable Model for Mother's Girl.

This style is nice for cashmere, gabardine, repp, voile, plaid or checked suiting, and also for all wash fabrics The guimpe may be of crepe, lawn or batiste The dress closes at the left side of the front, and is worn over the guimpe

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 6 requires 1¼ yard for the guimpe, and 3⅝ yards for the dress, of 27-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10c in silver or stamps for our Up-to-Date Spring and Summer, 1918, Catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking; also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Make This Clean-Up Week.

With the first day of May ushered in today it would not be a bad idea for the residents of Kingston to get busy and make the first week of the month a clean-up week All over the city gardens are being spaded up and in many instances lettuce and other seed have been planted Along with the necessary garden work the backyards and front yards should also be cleaned of the winters accumulation of dirt.

PRIVATE ALCON IS IN FRANCE

PRIVATE BERNARD ALCON.

Abram Alcon of the firm of Alcon Brothers, shoe dealers on the Strand, has received an interesting letter from his son, Private Bernard Alcon, whose address now is "3-d Company, 2nd M. M. Regiment. A. E. F." which denotes the fact that Private Alcon is "somewhere in France." He writes that he has been moved around so much that he did not get time to write sooner, but now he is in a permanet camp, and will have more time to himself. He says that he is enjoying the country because he is seeing things that cannot be seen in the states. So far he has not done a bit of work, but expects to known in a week or so what he is to do. The food they are getting is good, and they get plenty of it. The letter is written on Y. M. C. A. stationery and is dated March 23, and passed by the censor.

GILLETTE EXPLAINS NEW SCHOOL LAW

New York State Education Department, Second Supervisory District, Ulster Co., Port Ewen, N. Y.
Telephone 182-R— Kingston.
John Union Gillette, District Superintendent of Schools.
April 30, 1918.

Editor Kingston Freeman:

There seems to be considerable uncertainty about the date of holding schools meetings So many inquiries have come by mail recently regarding the holding of annual school meetings that it is almost impossible to answer all the questions which are being asked concerning such meetings, method of procedure, etc.

Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to state to the legal voters, and others interested in education, in the second supervisory district of Ulster county, comprising the towns of Esopus, Gardiner, New Paltz and Shawangunk that a bill introduced in the recent session of the Legislature by the Honorable Louis M Martin of Oneida county, repealing the law enacted by the Legislature of 1917 known as the "Township Law" passed both branches of the Legislature, was signed by the Governor April 13th, and thus became the laws of 1918.

This law provides that annual school meetings shall be held in school districts under the operation of the township law in June 1918, no day being fixed in the law. The law authorizes the district superintendent to call meetings in each school district some day in June.

In order that officers may be chosen, appropriations voted, and arrangements may be made to open the schools promptly in September as the law requires, I will call school meetings in all districts which were under the operation of the township law Tuesday evening, June 4, at 7:30. Notices of such meetings will be posted at least five days before June 4, 1918 as provided by law. The usual method of procedure in conducting school meetings will be observed as far as possible.

Therefore, under the law as set forth in the Martin bill there will be no school meetings in those school districts operating under the township law in the month of May, 1918.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN U GILLETTE.

New Telephone Tariff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, May 1.—The New York Telephone Company has filed with the Public Service Commission Second District [illegible] local and joint toll tariffs, effective on May 27, and affecting a few localities in nearly every county with the exception of New York city. Several hundred changes are made in the new tariff sheets and in many instances there is a reduction in the toll charge between points. The increase in rates, as a rule, do not exceed 5 cents and are occasioned principally by a transfer of localities affected from special rate sheets to block rate sheets. Rates changes are in rural communities and points involved are those in which the toll calls are few. The changes do not affect toll rates from the larger cities of the state, except in a few instances

In Police Court.

Harry Shuster and Ernest Ourhair two young men, were arrested at midnight Tuesday by Special Officer Dolfall on a charge of fighting on the public streets This morning both young men pleaded not guilty and Judge Schimck adjourned the hearing until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The alleged fight took place on Wall street, near John.

Joseph McAvoy, a one-legged man who walked with the aid of crutches, was arrested this morning by Officer Hess on a charge of panhandling on Broadway, near the West Shore station. He was given an hour to get out of town. McAvoy has been here

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, May 1.—Drink more milk; eat more cheese.

That is the cry of farmers of New York state It must be answered. There is an abundance of dairy products practically going to waste. The waste must stop

Farming organizations throughout the state stand solidly behind the campaign being waged by the State Department of Farms and Markets for increased consumption of daily products. The Dairymen's League, the New York State Grange, the various farm bureau organizations and the State Dairymen's Association are actively lined up in the drive for greater use of milk.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson today declared that there is a big surplus of milk products not only in New York state but in other states.

"It must be emphasized," he said, "that these products may be consumed in place of wheat, beef and corn which are needed by our own and the armies of our allies in France."

He declared that the agricultural organizations behind the movement urge strongly the food value of milk and cheese and point out the value of substitution for other foodstuffs. Some of these farmers' organizations, especially the Dairymen's League, are working out plans which will present to the public forcibly demonstrations of the relative food values. Methods of preparing dishes with milk and milk products are to be called to the attention of the consumer in various ways in the campaign already inaugurated.

Farmers are urging support of the milk and dairy farm demonstration to be held in the Grand Central Palace, New York city, the week of May 20. The Dairymen's League has appropriated $10,000 of its funds to be used for exhibit purposes. A model dairy will be installed and the finest Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys and Ayrshires will be milked morning and evening. A pasteurization plant will be in operation. Butter and cheese manufacture will be demonstrated with all of the latest and most sanitary appliances.

Governor Whitman recently signed a bill providing for an appropriation for an exhibit by the state and the governor has accepted an invitation to open the demonstration with an address.

The dairy industry in New York state is an important one. Milk produced annually is valued at $250,000,000 and the value of the cattle in the state is estimated at $300,000,000. It is also estimated that at least 700,000 persons are engaged in the various branches of the industry within the state.

MEASLES ALARM BOARD OF HEALTH

State Department of Health Send Dr. Laidlaw to Kingston—Over Thirty Cases Reported in Past Three Days.

So alarming has become the outbreak of measles in Kingston that the state board of health at Albany has sent Dr Laidlaw to Kington to investigate conditions and he with Dr. Van Hoevenberg, the school physician, were busy this morning at the board of health office at the city hall looking up the cases that had been reported.

It was stated that in the past three days over thirty cases had been reported, and the morning mail brought reports of two additional cases. At Ulster Academy alone over forty cases of the disease have been reported among the pupils.

If the epidemic is not checked it is quite likely that the board of health may take some acton toward closing the schools. The board meets May 14, and unless the situation is better than it is now it is likely that some action will be taken at that meeting.

MONTOMA.

Montoma, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. George Neher of Woodstock spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Neher.

Irving Parker and daughters, Beulah and Pearl, of Kingston, spent the week-end at C. H. B. Gray's.

The Rev. Mr. Miller of Albany gave a very interesting lecture on the work of the Civic League in the Glenford M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon.

The annual school meeting of District No. 7 will be held in the school house on Tuesday, May 7, at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bonesteel of Shady spent one day last week with their daughter, Mrs. Edward Stoutenberg.
